C.E.R. THREAT

SOVIET FEARS SEIZURE

STRONG PROTEST TO JAPAN

PLOT ALLEGED

Moscow, Sept. 22.

A sharp protest against alleged Japanese plans to change the administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway has been lodged by M. Sokolnikoff, former Soviet Ambassador in Britain, to the Japanese Ambassador in Moscow.

The Russian Note declares that the proposed changes are inadmissible and appear to be nothing short of an attempt to seize the railway absolutely and to violate the existing order, particularly the rights of the Soviet manager of the railway, making him dependent on his Manchurian assistant.

It is also learned, says the Soviet Note, that the Manchurian authorities, under the direction of agents of the Japanese Government, are planning police measures against Soviet employees of the C.E.R.

The Soviet Ambassador in Tokyo has been instructed to make a statement on similar lines to the Japanese Government.—Reuter.

A DICTIONARY COMPLETE

OXFORD ISSUES A SUPPLEMENT

LONG TASK OVER

London, Sept. 21.

The new Oxford English dictionary, which has been in the process of publication since 1884, and is the largest dictionary in the world, has now been brought up-to-date by the publication of a supplement.

The last volume of the main body of the dictionary (was published in 1928, but in the work, which represents a complete scientific dictionary of the English language, a supplement was essential to cover words introduced into the language as the result of modern developments in many fields.

Flying, motoring, wireless and cinematography are obvious examples of such developments which were practically unknown when the first letters of the alphabet were dealt with in the dictionary.—British Wireless.

AUSTRALIA AND THE TESTS

TOUR REGARDED AS CERTAIN

THE ITINERARY ISSUED

Sydney, Sept. 21.

Judging from the fact that the itinerary for the Australian team has already been drawn up, it is regarded as virtually certain that Test matches between England and Australia will be played in 1934.

That the tour will take place despite the friction of the last few months, says Reuter, is now almost certain. It is significant that the itinerary was announced subsequent to the meeting this afternoon of the Australian Board of Control. It includes provision for

Thirty-three matches in all; and

Five Test Matches at Nottingham, June 8.

Lord's, June 22.

Manchester, July 6.

Leeds, July 20.

Oval, August 18.

All of the Tests will be of four days' duration unless the rubber depends on the final match, which will be played to a finish.

SECRET MEETING.

Great secrecy was maintained at the meeting to-day presided over by Mr. Oxlade.

Matters were discussed before tea and again after the adjournment, but the meeting was held in camera, and after dinner a cable was compiled to be sent to the M.C.C.

It was believed that it would be sent to-night, but no information was made available to the Press. Later Mr. Jeanes announced that the Board was continuing its negotiations, but otherwise refrained from revealing anything of the remainder of the proceedings.—Reuter.

FASTER TRAVEL BY SEA

FRENCH LINE TO SPEED UP SERVICE

It is announced that the fortnightly service to Japan formerly maintained by the Messageries Maritimes line, temporarily suspended for about a year, will be resumed with the departure of the m.v. Felix Roussel, which is due to sail for Kobe on December 1.

It is understood the company intends to speed up the service between Marseilles and Hongkong. The itinerary will be improved by an increase in speed coupled with a shorter stay at certain ports of call.

The time of the voyage between Marseilles and Hongkong will thus be greatly reduced.

MONTAGU NORMAN AND THE GREAT EXPERIMENT

CONSTANT CHANGE IN U.S. SITUATION

MODESTY AGAIN

London, Sept. 21.

Mr. Montagu Norman, the so-called Mystery Man of the Bank of England, again assumed the role of modesty to-day in an address to the Directors of the Bank.

It appears that the American economic experiment is too puzzling, changes so often and is evolving with too much uncertainty for him to be able to make any sort of guess regarding the future.

So continuous and so great are the changes that no-one who is not on the spot is up-to-date, he declared in to-day's meeting of the Directors.

"Nothing that I found while I was in America would be of the slightest interest to you. It is a fortnight since I was there and in that fortnight a new situation, almost a new country, has grown up there."—Reuter.

Mr. Norman.

INFLATION ON THE CARDS

Plan Said To Be Under Consideration

Washington, Sept. 21.

Talk of inflation is still in the air and the policy of the Administration remains undefined despite the declaration of Mr. Wallace that inflation is not a panacea.

It is understood that the Administration is now carefully considering a plan for a controlled dollar with a firm purchasing power, through which price levels could be established.

It is pointed out that the President is empowered to fix the gold content of the dollar for any stated period, either month by month, or by a ninety-day period.—Reuter.

GOVERNMENT BUYING

New U.S. Price-Raising Effort

Washington, Sept. 21.

In pursuance of a new method of boosting commodity prices, President Roosevelt has ordered the Government purchase of surplus beef, dairy and poultry products, cotton and cotton seed to the value of about $75,000,000.

It is understood that the commodities thus procured will be turned over for use in relief work and not retained as a hang-over on the market.

A deputation of Southern States cotton growers was to-day received at the White House where they urged President Roosevelt to arrange for the Government purchase of half the present cotton crop at fifteen cents a pound as a means of raising prices and controlling production.

The President promised an early decision.—Reuter.

CAPT. VON PAPEN'S MISSION IN HUNGARY

AN ECONOMIC SUGGESTION LEAKS OUT

Budapest, Sept. 21.

At the conclusion of a five-day visit of Captain von Papen, it was disclosed that he had advised Dr. Gombos, the Hungarian Premier, to convert the wheat areas in Hungary for the growing of soy beans, resin and oil seeds, in order to make Germany independent of Manchurian supplies.

The political results of the visit are beyond the scope of conjecture at the moment, although speculation is rife. Von Papen's visit has returned a special visit made by Dr. Gombos to Berlin a few weeks ago, when it was generally believed that the Hungarian leader was acting under the guidance of Italy.

Very much in the air at that time was the question of a return to the old regime of Austria-Hungary to replace Germany's idea of adding Austria to the domains of the Reich. The restoration of Prince Otto to the Throne was part of the programme.

Germany has kept silent regarding her reception of the proposal while maintaining her activities against Austria. France was not well disposed to the plan, fearing that it might have the result of throwing Hungary into Germany's arms as well as Austria.—Reuter.

SIDKY PASHA RESIGNS

CONCERN FELT IN BRITAIN

THE PROBLEM OF EGYPT

Cairo, Sept. 21.

The Prime Minister, Sidky Pasha, has tendered his resignation on the ground of ill-health, an announcement which will cause some concern in British quarters.

Sidky Pasha has enjoyed a great reputation for honesty of purpose and strength of character and his disappearance from leadership of the country will be deeply regretted.

He began his career in the Egyptian Civil Service and his duties brought him frequently into contact with British officials and he won their esteem both by his intelligence and by his unusual gift (for an Egyptian) of being able to grasp a financial problem.

NOT AN EXTREMIST.

After holding various administrative posts he was given a judgeship. In 1921, however, he resigned and accepted the portfolio of Finance in Adly's Cabinet. He held it also under Sarwat, but went out of office when Zaghlul came into power early in 1924, as he was entirely out of sympathy with the extremist views of the Wafd party. Before the end of the year, however, he was back in office as Minister of the Interior under Ahmed Ziwar.

It was then that he gave an example of his fearless strength of mind. On an occasion when there was ferment in Cairo and danger of an outbreak of violence he issued a special order to Zaghlul, whose following was still powerful, to remain indoors and saw that the order was enforced.

STRONG MAN.

The services he performed at that period have led to his being regarded as the strong man who saved Egypt from chaos. The Wafd, however, returned to power, first under Zaghlul and after his death under Nahas. The latter in 1929 went to London to try to secure a treaty settling the issues between Egypt and Britain, but the negotiations broke down over Nahas's demands concerning the Sudan. Soon after his return to Cairo difficulties arose and Sidky was chosen to succeed him as Premier in June, 1930.

In August of that year he had a narrow escape from assassination. A man armed with hatchet was captured at the entrance to the railway carriage in which Sidky was travelling. He had meanwhile grappled with the economic crisis and had taken steps to cut down expenditure by a large sum without interfering with any projects of importance.—Reuter.

Beauvais Memorial To Be Unveiled

London, Sept. 21.

UNTIMELY DEATH OF SOLICITOR

MR. F. C. E. RENDALL PASSES AWAY

FOUR YEARS IN COLONY

We regret to have to record that, following an operation for complicated appendicitis, Mr. F. C. E. Rendall, the well-known solicitor, of Messrs. Russ & Co., passed away this morning at 3 a.m. at the War Memorial Hospital.

His wife, with her two young sons, is in England.

The funeral will take place this evening, the cortege passing the monument at 5 p.m.

Apparently in normal health, Mr. Rendall has actually been suffering from the recurrence of an old complaint for several weeks. He was taken seriously ill a fortnight ago and an operation was performed during the week-end.

The Full Court will assemble at the Supreme Court at 12.30 to-day to take notice of the sad event and the Puisne Judge expressed the hope that as many members of both branches of the profession as could make it convenient, would attend.

FOUR YEARS IN COLONY.

Although, he had been in the Colony for a little more than four years, Mr. Rendall had gained a reputation as an advocate, and was looked upon as a hard and conscientious worker.

Mr. Francis Cuthbert Eugene Rendall was 37 years of age. He was educated at Rugby Lower School and the University of Wales where he graduated with the Bachelor of Arts degree. He was articled to Mr. Evan Barlow, well-known in Leicester legal circles, and was admitted to the Supreme Court of London in May of 1927. After two years practice at home he transferred his activities to this Colony where he met with fair success.

A regular officer in the Indian Army, Mr. Rendall saw war service there and in Mesopotamia. He spoke Hindustani with some fluency.

GORDON BENNETT RACE

WON BY THE POLISH BALLOONISTS

Washington, Sept. 21.

The National Aeronautical Association has declared the Polish Balloon winner of the annual Gordon Bennett Trophy. The United States was second, with the "Good-year" Balloon, Germany, Belgium and France occupying the next four places.

The distances achieved were: Poland, 846 miles, United States 776 miles, "Good-year", 492 miles, Germany, 251 miles, Belgium 220 miles and France 165 miles.

The Polish pilots were lost in the Canadian bush for a week, and were discovered near Quebec in a thoroughly exhausted condition.—Reuter.

CUBA CHAOS

TEN FOREIGNERS IMPERILLED

ISOLATED IN MILL

FOOD SHORTAGE THREATENING

Havana, Sept. 21.

Protected by only six "rural guards" or local military, seven British citizens and three Americans are isolated in Soledad sugar-mill, with the prospect of facing a mob of two thousand workers.

The workers are growing increasingly violent and they are demanding that they be fed while they strike for higher pay and shorter hours.

The strikers evacuated the mill after the local authorities had promised to feed them free of charge, but have threatened to return to-morrow if their wage demands are not met.

BREAD SHORTAGE.

In Havana, similarly anxious conditions prevail.

There is a shortage of bread following the closure of the wholesale provision houses, which rejected their employees' demands for higher wages. They have ceased to deliver foodstuffs to retailers.

Many minor strikes have broken out and the longshoremen are refusing to handle Canadian products while Canada continues to give shelter to ex-President Machado. In consequence, Canadian exporters are only shipping for cash with order.

MOB VIOLENCE.

One man was killed to-day when officers guarding the house of Senator Obregon, the son-in-law of General Machado, fired on a mob which was attempting to sack the building last night.

Forty arrests were made. The situation is growing anxious and cavalry are now patrolling the streets in the neighbourhood of the Presidential Palace.—Reuter.

NEW PARLEY ON DISARMAMENT

STRONG BRITISH REPRESENTATION

London, Sept. 22.

The Anglo-French conversations on the draft disarmament convention will be resumed to-morrow following a luncheon to be given at the Embassy in Paris by the British Ambassador, Lord Tyrrell.

Sir John Simon and Captain Anthony Eden will fly to Paris to-morrow morning to take part in the conversations and will be joined by Mr. Stanley Baldwin, who is at present in the French capital.

The French Government representatives will be the Premier, M. Daladier and the Foreign Minister, M. Paul Boncour.

Sir John Simon and Captain Eden, with M. Boncour, will leave for Geneva for the League Council and Assembly meetings at the conclusion of the conversation, and M. Daladier will probably travel to Geneva on Monday.—British Wireless.

The Chief Justice, Mr. J.E. Wood, sailed to-day aboard the Empress for a brief holiday in Japan and back.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alliea Hart

"Skin toning lotions are vitally important," says one of the foremost French manufacturers of cosmetics. And he goes on to explain that they serve two purposes. They remove all traces of your cleansing cream and give your skin just enough daily stimulation.

Skin toning lotions are not to be confused with astringents. It is true that they have a slight astringent quality, but they do not increase circulation to any great extent. They are exactly what their name implies—a gentle toning for the skin.

You can get a bottle of skin toning lotion in any shop which sells cosmetics.

After you have thoroughly cleansed your face with cleansing cream, saturate a piece of clean cotton with the skin toning lotion and wipe your face and neck with
it. When dry, apply a powder base. Your face will feel cooler and cleaner, since the lotion removes all the excess cleansing cream which cleansing tissues did not.

Astringents as a daily routine are not for your face. They increase circulation artificially and anything which is artificial is not healthful if practised daily. You may use an astringent on your face occasionally, but, as a rule,
save it for your chin and neck.

Astringents on your chin and neck should be used in conjunction with a patten. The treatment will reduce your chin if it has a tendency toward becoming a double one.

In other words, every woman needs both an astringent and a skin toning lotion. Each one goes far toward preserving your natural beauty.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XXVIII

Eve entered the offices of the brokerage firm of Sloan and Sanford with trepidation. Yet she felt no urge to turn back. She had made one investment through the bank and now was exploring new fields. Eve had decided to shift the scene for her next financial venture.

She asked for Mr. Sanford and this time he was at his desk. Her naïveté must have amused him, for more than once she noticed a twinkle in his large blue-gray eyes.

"I'm through with Pure Soap," Eve told him. "I don't want to overdo any one thing, you see. I thought I might like to try one of the industrials. Will you tell me about them?"

Mr. Sanford told her about the industrials and agreed with her that it might be well to invest in one of them. He advocated Atlas Coupler. Eve placed her money on Atlas Coupler.

As she left the office she wondered vaguely what a coupler was. She had not felt like asking Mr. Sanford. At any rate, it was listed on the stock exchange. She noticed this when Charles brought the stock edition newspapers into the office that afternoon. As soon as she had time she got out the newspaper file and looked up Atlas Coupler ratings for the last two months. Yes, Mr. Sanford had told her the truth concerning the stock valuation. She could dismiss from her mind any misgivings concerning her new investment.

Eve liked the atmosphere of the brokerage house. She longed to feel the same ease of manner displayed by the men she saw trading there. Yet she could not quite smother a sense of excitement each time she visited the exchange. She formed the habit of dropping in frequently during lunch periods. Usually she asked Arlene to go with her, since she felt timid about appearing alone among a group of men devoted to watching market quotations being chalked on the board.

"I certainly get a great kick out of coming up here," Arlene assured her. "If father could only see me now! He thinks anyone who invests in stocks is bound for perdition. And he couldn't, for the life of him, understand that I'd be interested in this place without investing."

Tuesday was pay day at Bixby's and the following Wednesday found Arlene in Mr. Sanford's office with

Eve. Arlene was being initiated into making her first investment.

"I think it would be fun to margin," she commented when the methods of investing were explained to her. "I'd love the excitement of it!"

So Arlene also bought Atlas Coupler.

To Eve it had always been necessary to share each new experience with some one. Only after confiding in another and reliving the event did she get the utmost joy from it. Hence her spirits were greatly exhilarated after Arlene made her investment and they watched the trend of the market together. There were days when both of them felt the stimulation of a rise of a point or two in the valuation of Atlas Coupler. And there were days when a slight decline sent them into the very depths of discouragement.

Atlas Coupler had long lain dormant. Eve learned after looking up data concerning it. After the patent rights had been secured there had been a lengthy, uncertain delay in marketing the device, owing to the power of the holding company behind the coupler that was to be displaced by Atlas. But now contracts had been signed and manufacturing had begun. A reliable brokerage concern guided the activities of the issue and demand for it caused an extended flurry in the stock. The girls had every reason to believe quick riches were to be theirs for their risk and they anticipated their return eagerly.

Eve really longed to tell Dick of her investments, but she felt she could score a greater triumph by waiting until her gains were substantial. Not that she wished to flaunt her success, she assured herself, but she must be able to justify her desire to earn her own money.

Eve felt these days an almost overwhelming sense of hope and expectancy. She attributed it to the apparently established upward trend of Atlas Coupler, but it might have been born of the springtime. Mrs. Brooks, who was in her garden at six o'clock each morning, watched for Eve often and gave her a bouquet of fragrant lilies of the valley for her desk. Then came the week toward which the entire household had been looking forward when the lilac bushes were in bloom and purple and white clusters filled the air with their fragrance.

"Dick!" called Eve softly from the shabby old front steps where she was sitting with her arms locked around her knees. Dick, lounging in a gay steamer chair on the lawn below, looked up at her. The moon was sending beams of light through the newly-leaved maple trees and fantastic shadows danced on Eve's face. "I just love this place!" she declared.

Dick blew a curling wreath of smoke rings from his pipe upward toward the star-sprinkled sky. Then he answered slowly, contentedly, "We'll never find a better place in the city."

"I wish we could stay here forever!" Eve went on. "I mean happy and peaceful, just as we are now."

"U-um!" responded Dick. And then Miss McElhinney, one of the teachers who lived upstairs, came out on the porch. "It's such a gorgeous evening and you look so snug here! I hope you don't mind if I join you."

She perched herself on the newel post, nearer to Dick than to Eve. Before many minutes had elapsed she was off on a monologue which threatened to continue for hours.

"You see," Miss McElhinney confided in her slow voice that held a suggestion of a lisp, "I do like to come out of my character! All day long I have to be the stern 'schoolmarm' and after hours I long to be just the little girl I feel!"

Dick coughed but refrained from comment.

Eve studied the newcomer with some misgiving. Apparently her line was flattery.

"I think," Miss McElhinney continued, facing Dick directly, "that you are wonderful to accomplish all you do. Building that beautiful theatre! And giving orders to so many men. Engineering must be so thrilling. I used to watch you on stormy winter mornings as you waded through the snow to get your car. It was so cold I hated even to get out of bed. I would take one look at the 'frozen north' out in the yard and then slip back under the covers until almost time for the school bell to ring."

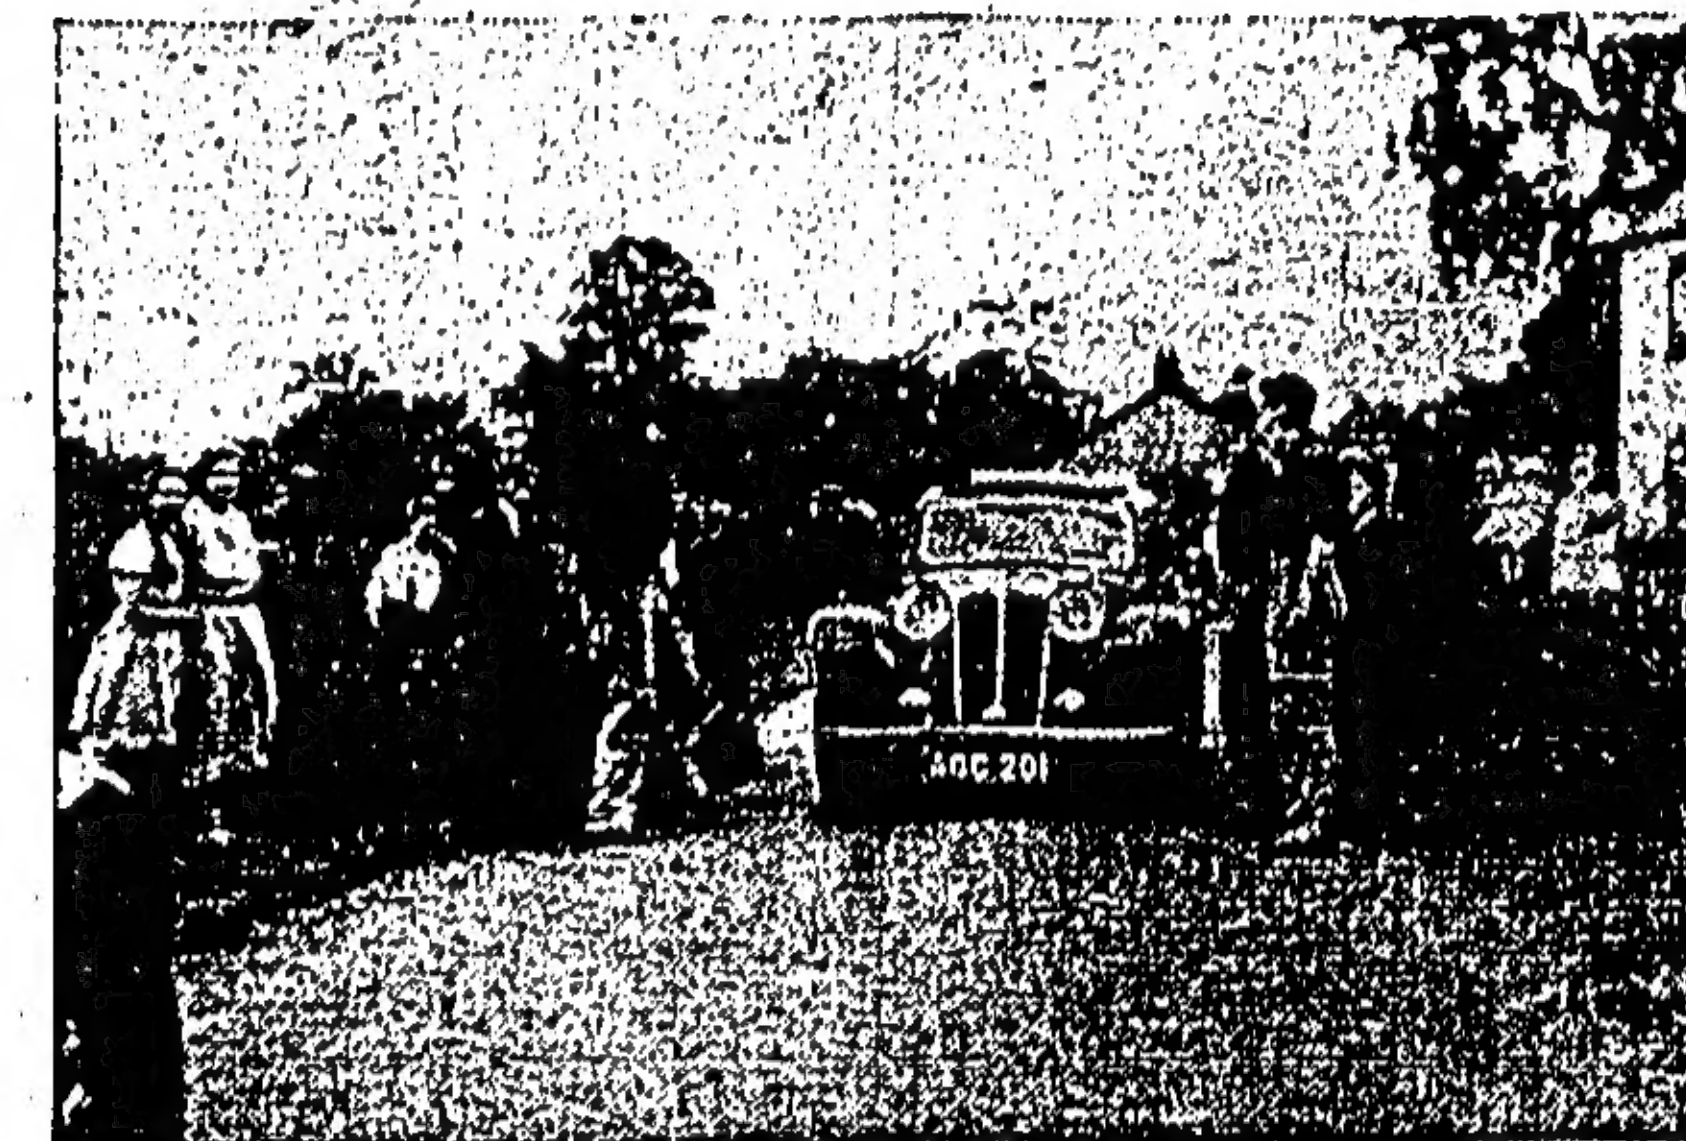

Presently the girl's voice dropped to a lower, more confidential tone that seemed to exclude Eve. She moved nearer to Dick. Twice he turned and tried to draw his wife into the conversation. Eve, ignored by Miss McElhinney's impudence and irritated at Dick for not discouraging her chatter, answered in monosyllables and presently rose abruptly and went indoors.

When Dick did not follow, as she had hoped he would, she went to bed, thought it was still early. Half an hour later she heard Dorothy McElhinney's husky laugh as she bade Dick good-night in the hall. Eve fancied there was an exultant and excited note in that laugh.

Dick paused at the bedroom door with the comment that the weather had changed and a sharp breeze was blowing in from the lake. When Eve did not answer he closed the door softly and settled himself for the evening with his pipe and a book. He had made no apology or explanation. Eve, nervous and tired, cried herself to sleep. That husky exultant laugh echoed mockingly in her ears.

BOWLS INTERPORT

BADGES FOR THE PLAYERS

LATEST TEAMS

The Hongkong Interport lawn bowls teams to meet Shanghai next month will sport the newly-designed badge of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association for the first time in the history of the Colony. These badges are now ready and will be available to members of the three rinks which have been selected to represent Hongkong in the official matches.

The badge will later be available to all past Interport players, who should apply to the Hon. Secretary immediately. They will not be ready for another week but should be finished in time for the Interport matches. Players who are entitled to wear the badge can have the year of selection put on to order.

Neat and artistically designed, the badge has a background of green, representing a bowling green, and white lettering. At the top appears "Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association," and encircled by two dragons are a shown black wood and a white jack.

WORLD CRISIS A WAY OUT

By FREDERICK COPE, A.M.I.E.E.

Mr. Cope's striking articles on the world economic crisis which were recently published in the Hongkong Telegraph are now available in pamphlet form. One of the features, repaying study, is the close similarity between the plan of reform suggested by this local writer, and certain aspects of the Roosevelt recovery programme. The author's ideas are naturally far too advanced for active promotion at the present time, but they are particularly interesting in view of the fact that President Roosevelt, in striking out on a path of his own, has travelled in the same direction.

The pamphlet is one of forty-four pages and can be obtained from the South China Morning Post at a cost of—

NATIONAL MEETING.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE H.K. ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

The annual general meeting of the Hongkong St. Andrew's Society will be held in the Board Room of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co. on Friday, September 29, at 5.45 p.m., for the purposes of receiving the annual report and statement of accounts for the year ending August 31, 1933, and of electing office-bearers for the ensuing year, as well as discussing any other business which may arise.

The report states that the balance at credit of the Society's general fund now stands at $2,491.41, to which falls to be added the sum of $10,000 invested in Public Works 4% Redemption Loan 1933 whilst $500 in 3½% War Loan is held for account of the late J.R.M. Smith Scholarship Fund.

A sum of $1,197.13 was expended during the year in assisting distressed Scotsmen.

The Annual Ball in celebration of St. Andrew's Day was held in the Peninsula Hotel on November 25, 1932.

Consequent on the Society's representation to the British Legion, Hongkong, the allocation by them of part of the Poppy Day contributions resulted in the sum of £188.17.6 being remitted to the British Legion, Scotland.

The Committee deeply regret to record the death of Mr. C. P. Rosa. Forty-six ordinary members were enrolled during the year and subscriptions collected amounted to $870. The Committee once again would remind all Scots in the Colony of their duty to join the Society.

The thanks of the Society are due to Mr. W. H. B. Rigg for kindly auditing the accounts for the year.

DODGING TAXATION.

N.Y. STOCK EXCHANGE TO CHANGE QUARTERS

New York, Sept. 21. The success of the plans to organise a Stock Exchange in New Jersey, in order to avoid the taxation on stock transactions imposed by the New York Exchange, is now regarded as certain.

Six hundred and thirty-four members of the New York Exchange, including the president, Mr. James Whitney, have agreed to join the movement which was launched by 12 of the most influential firms in Wall Street.

No decision has been made regarding the location of the new Exchange. The majority favour Jersey City, but Newark has not yet been eliminated. The new Exchange may operate within a fortnight dealing initially with a limited list of stocks to which additions will be made from time to time.

Meanwhile, 5,000 employees of financial houses in Wall Street have signed a petition against the proposed tax.

The chairman of the New York Exchange is Mr. Curtis Dall, President Roosevelt's son-in-law.—Reuter.

PEKING ALARM.

REBEL TROOPS IN HUAIJU CITY

Peking, Sept. 21. An official communique issued by the branch Military Council offices this afternoon, states that General Fang Chen-wu arrived in Huaiju yesterday with 2,000 troops and immediately after the occupation of the city disarmed the special police and placed under surveillance the city magistrate and the director of public safety.

The advance guard of this force is showing signs of an intended advance on Shunyi, which is less than 20 miles north of Peking.

The communique also reports that a Japanese aeroplane flew over Shunyi city this morning, and states that this is a significant thing that this aerial visit should come on the first day after the occupation of Huaiju by Fang's troops.

The Military Council discussed the situation at Huaiju but came to no decision.

Meanwhile, negotiations have been started with Colonel Shibayama, the Japanese Military attaché here, for permission to send Chinese troops into Huaiju to expel the rebels.—Reuter.

REPORT OF ECONOMIC ALLIANCE

Tokyo, Sept. 21. Great importance is attached to the activities of M. Baryshnikov, Director of the Soviet State Bank and a delegate to the Conference now proceeding here for the sale of the Chinese Eastern Railway, according to the newspaper Hochi, which says that M. Baryshnikov is not confining his activities to the Conference but is extending his interest to other fields, with a view to establishing an economic alliance between the Soviet and Japan. He is also reported to be organising a Russo-Japanese Bank.

The newspaper says the projected economic alliance is intended to secure a smooth flow of merchandise between the two countries, with the establishment of long-term mutual credits and the joint development of the resources of the two nations in the Far East.—Reuter.

JUVENILE OFFENDERS

The completion of the Industrial School and Home at Aberdeen, which is expected to be ready for occupation in from fifteen to eighteen months, will mark an important stage in the improvement of local methods of dealing with young delinquents. It will do a great deal more, it is true. The institution is not intended primarily as a children's penitentiary; its more valuable function, it is hoped, will be that of providing a means whereby the appearance of young boys in the police court may be avoided. It will perform a social service in relieving poor parents, recommended as deserving cases, of some of the anxieties of bringing up children as decent citizens within the limits of a small purse. Lads of the type filling the Street Boys' Club will be candidates for the School; it is in fact, hoped to make it a Home rather than a Reformatory. The role of reformatory, if regarded as secondary, is not, however, unimportant. To those who have any acquaintance with local police courts, it has always been obvious that the present treatment of juvenile offenders in the Colony is far from satisfactory, partly through misunderstanding of special needs and partly through lack of the proper facilities. Legislation designed to remove certain objectionable features has been passed, but some cases are still heard in open court, and those special cases, where reformatory treatment seems very desirable, have to be dealt with in other ways because of the absence of any institution of the type which is now proposed. Completion of the Aberdeen scheme will change the whole outlook, although some caution will have to be exercised even then. Most criminals, it has been found, give evidence of their tendency when quite young. Hence the need for taking the greatest trouble with youthful offenders. At once, a query arises. Who is to be responsible? The right agents are essential. It is not every boy, no matter what his offence nor how often he has been caught out, who will respond happily to reformatory treatment even when placed in the hands of such well-disposed and experienced folk as the Salvation Fathers. There are some better dealt with by a thrashing and some who are

NOTES OF THE DAY

LOCAL AVIATION

Things are looking up in the field of local aviation. The Flying Training School project comes well sponsored, with the approval both of the Hongkong Government and of the Air Ministry, while London forecasts that the Imperial Airways will have extended its routes to Hongkong and beyond within a period of two years. American interests are also very active, with proposals for linking Shanghai, Hongkong, Canton and Manila by daily services, which they are ready to begin as soon as approval is obtained. It looks as though the new facilities planned by Government at Kai Tak will not come before their time.

FLYING SCHOOL SCHEME

The Flying Training School will be a distinct asset in a dozen different ways. It would be a mistake to regard it as a sort of glorified Flying Club; its business is much more important, although it will cover the field of the flying club. Pilots will be trained to a high standard of efficiency and it is expected that they will come from far and wide. The business side of the undertaking is obvious. If Chinese pilots are trained in the technicalities of aircraft in Hongkong and in British machines, it would seem to follow automatically that the Chinese demand for British planes will rise steadily.

WIRELESS AND POLITICS

Wireless is increasingly coming to assert itself as a force in politics. At one moment it is Germany trying to bully Austria over the ether; at another it is President Roosevelt securing popular acceptance for his National Recovery schemes by broadcasting personal talks to every listener in the United States. A very good example of that latter type of effort was the talk and discussion of the Milk Marketing scheme broadcast by the Minister of Agriculture prior to the acceptance of the proposals by the milk producers. Nearly all farmers have wireless sets, and no better way to reach them could be devised.

INTERNATIONAL SIDE

Yet it cannot be denied that all these uses have their dangers. The international danger is naked and obvious; and the present international wireless agreements do little or nothing to limit it. Much might be said for forbidding high-power stations to broadcast in any language but that of their own country. But even that would not meet cases like those of Germany, Austria, and Switzerland, or of Holland, and Flanders, or of Great Britain and the Irish Free State; where one area may legitimately employ the language of another.

THE DOMESTIC SIDE

The use of wireless by Governments to carry their policies in their own countries raises a different problem. As employed by President Roosevelt or Major Elliot, it may render a great public service. But it can easily degenerate into an exercise of undue influence by the party for the moment in power. In Germany and Italy there is no desire to avoid this and no disguise about it. In Britain every party (except the Communists and perhaps Sir Stafford Cripps's extremist clique) wishes to avoid it. The new B.B.C. experiment in arranging for representative broadcasts from each of the Parliamentary parties will be watched with interest.

more likely to "come through" if placed under the watchful eye of a thoroughly-trained Probation Officer. The creation of such a post has already been strongly recommended and the importance of the work it is possible for such an official to do cannot be over-estimated, provided Magistrates do not ask of him the impossible. Clearly, the greatest responsibility rests with the Magistrate, and his task of rendering a decision in juvenile cases will never be an enviable one; it may make or mar for life.

SET A WOMAN TO CATCH A WOMAN

SCOTLAND YARD'S NEW RECRUITS

By F. W. MEMORY

SCOTLAND Yard is moving with the times. That, perhaps, sums up the appointment of four women as regular members of the Criminal Investigation Department of the Metropolitan Police.

As a matter of fact, the appointment is overdue; it could have been made with advantage years ago. It has been delayed, I presume, because it represents a stride forward in official criminal investigation of an almost revolutionary character and one which naturally conservative officialdom hesitated to make.

But the move is made, and now the whole country awaits with interest the outcome.

There need be no doubt as to the wisdom of the venture or qualms with regard to its success.

ASSETS.

The right type of woman is a born detective. She starts with advantages—they might even be described as idiosyncrasies—peculiar to her sex which fit her for patient and intricate inquiry, while her inborn inquisitiveness, and, if one may say so, her insatiable desire to know somebody else's business are assets which, if properly developed, will be of inestimable value to an officer of the C.I.D.

Of course, they will have to be trained in police methods and procedure, and the real test of their worth as detective officers will be the thoroughness with which this training is assimilated and improved upon by their own initiative. The authorities have no doubts with regard to this, for although there have never been official appointments such as those now made, policewomen—and there are some hundreds of them in the country—have been used on investigation work for years past and proved themselves worthy of the trust reposed in them.

IN SECRET SERVICE.

I think it was in Lancashire ten or more years ago that a woman was first used for detective work in connection with a police force—they have been employed as private inquiry agents and house detectives for much longer than that—while during recent years the Metropolitan Police Force has also used women for "plain-clothes" inquiries.

Some women play already a very considerable part in the organisation of Scotland Yard and its more or less associate department commonly known as the Secret Service. There is one young woman, petite and charming, who probably knows more about Communists, Anarchists, and Bolsheviks than any male officer not only in England but in Europe—which is fairly clear evidence that the discretion in police matters of carefully selected women can be relied upon.

It has been a long-standing complaint that in certain classes of cases concerning women, male investigators have been handicapped in their inquiries, and there is every reason to assume that women detectives will fare much better. But there is one point to be made clear at once. The new recruits to the Criminal Investigation Department are described as "full members," a phrase which means, if it means anything at all, that they will do exactly the same kind of work as the male officers, and not be restricted to cases affecting women and children.

That is exactly as it should be. There is no reason why the right type of woman should not be just as successful as a man in unravelling cases of fraud, or even of murder, for in these inquiries nine-tenths of the investigation is careful, systematic, and unceasing inquiry.

That women are capable of this is borne out by the fact that the Egyptian Government have for some time employed two Englishwomen to assist Russell Pasha's special police in the complicated and dangerous task of unravelling the secrets of the drug gangs.

To-day more and more women are taking to crime. It is an old adage that it takes a poacher to catch a poacher, and by the same token why should it not be to the advantage of the law to employ women to catch women? A woman detective, better than a man, will be able to appreciate and counter, by reasons of psychology, the moves of a woman criminal. That at least is the experience of the great business houses which use women detectives to frustrate shoplifters.

HOW WILL THEY FARE?

How will women members of the C.I.D. fare against the male criminal, particularly against the well-educated, debonaire young men who now in increasing numbers are unfortunately following the path of crime? That, of course, raises a question as to the class of women to be enrolled as detectives.

Sex appeal has no place whatever in criminal investigation, although it is, cultivated to the full by women employed by the Secret Services of all nations. In history there is hardly a general who has gone forth to battle, or a king who has tottered from his throne, who has not been subjected to the machinations of a siren of this type.

The pages of history are sprinkled with their doings, and there is one who was perhaps in a class apart—one who may be regarded as the first woman detective—Delilah, the Philistine of Sorek. It will be remembered she was engaged by the "lords of Philistine," much as a private inquiry agent might be employed to-day, to discover the secret of Samson, the Danite. How she succeeded the ruins of Gaza bear witness to-day.

"We should start thinking about her future. I don't want her to know any of our friends."

The Very Idea!

ROMANCE

By Edward Kelly, Romeo.

WE have a passionate nature.

The Kellys, as you probably know, have always been highly strung—particularly our great grandfather, who was strung up in 1848 for running away with a worthless piece of rope.

Unfortunately he had neglected to remove the horse that was fastened to the other end of the rope.

But who wouldn't be romantic and highly strung at this time of the year. Here it is nearly autumn, and when the rain lets up the birds twitter in the trees.

Even the Editor twittered this morning, when he came in at 11 a.m. and found us writing poetry instead of the Very Idea. Ah, romance! That's why we became a journalist. We heard about the romance of journalism. Getting your cheque at the end of the month. That's romance! Borrowing $10 off the cashier in the middle of the month. That's more romance! Dodging romantic shroffs. Paying our bills. That's romancing.

We are all romantic on this paper. Romantic reporters flit hither and thither. A romantic sub-editor thinks out snappy romantic headlines. Another romantic reporter rings up a romantic weather bureau and is told some romance about typhoons. There's romance everywhere. It was the same when Babylon was young and they made whoopee in Nineveh. Romantic newspapermen of the days of Rome romantically chopped out in stone their story of Caesar's romance with Cleopatra.

We know now, by reading the old Romantic Times, how Caesar sought to conquer fair Cleo's heart with jewels.

Knowing that lovely lady's passion for precious stones, the romantic Caesar conquered Gaul, and came home with Gaul stones. But we're not going to bore you with an account of Caesar's operation. It's enough that we're going to tell you a thing or two about our own.

Editor's note: Not in this newspaper, you won't!
Eddie's note: How about just one paragraph?
Editor's note: Not a line.
Eddie's note: Okay. But you wouldn't talk to us that way if we didn't have a romantic wife and two kids to support.

That's the trouble with this paper. Everybody but the Editor believes in romance. Even our readers are romantic.

Journalism is romance run Reuters. Sitting on our awlvel chair, with our feet up on the paper, we can close our eyes, and in our romantic fancy, transport ourselves to the Hongkong Hotel, or some other such romantic place.

And what has the Water Authority got up its sleeve. Something romantic, we'll bet. If Mr. Tickle

Romantic sub-editor's note: "Cuckoo! Cuckoo!"

A TEASER

A boat leaves Hongkong every day at noon for Yokohama and gets there seven days later at noon. A boat of the same line leaves Yokohama every day at noon, arriving in Hongkong seven days later at noon. A passenger leaves Hongkong one Sunday and sees the boat from Yokohama moving into the wharf as his boat pulls out. How many company boats (not counting his own) has he seen, weather being perfect, when he reaches Yokohama the following Sunday?

A WAR TRAGEDY.

General Ah Gaw Blime returned triumphantly from the war. For two whole years, he had been fighting the communists, and he had longed for his palace in Hongkong, where little Shug Ah Babi, his wife, was waiting for him.

He mounted the front steps at a gallop. Shug Ah met him at the door and he crushed her to his manly bosom.

"Shug Ah," he whispered tenderly. The General could whisper tenderly in English, otherwise we wouldn't be able to tell this story.

"Shug Ah," he whispered tenderly. "For two whole years I have waited for this moment. Now, where is the apple of my eye, my baby child, whom I have not yet seen?"

Shug Ah led her lord into the nursery, where a fair-haired, blue-eyed boy was playing with his toys.

"But, Shug Ah, how—" exclaimed the General, aghast.

"My lord and master," whispered Shug Ah, "I'm afraid the worst has happened."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

Isn't it only natural that the queens should predominate in the National mixed team-of-four championship? In this event a team must consist of two mixed pairs. At Asbury Park recently this event set an attendance record for national team-of-four championship events.

The kings and queens of bridge competed for this national championship title and the following interesting hand came up during the contest. The first four tricks were won by the declarer with four queens.

Mr. George Unger, former national contract team-of-four champion, was sitting in the South and his partner was Mrs. R. B. Fuller, who with her partner, Mrs. Courtland Smith, won the national woman's pair title at Asbury Park.

Mr. Unger passed, West passed, and Mrs. Fuller in the North bid one spade. East doubled and South bid one no trump. North went to two no trump and South bid three no trump.

The Play

West's opening lead was the jack of hearts and dummy's queen held the trick. Mr. Unger returned the six of diamonds from dummy and played the queen from his own hand. West allowed it to hold the trick.

The next play was the deuce of spades, the queen was played from dummy and the third queen had won the trick. This gave Mr. Unger the thought that now his club finesse should be good, so he played the deuce of clubs from dummy, finessing the queen—and the first four tricks had all been won with queens.

However his contract was still not made. He led a small diamond and won in dummy with the ten. East showed out, discarding a spade. Mr. Unger then cashed his ace and king of hearts—East showed out of hearts, discarding another spade.

This gave Mr. Unger a perfect count on the East hand, which now had left nothing but three clubs and three spades, therefore a small club was played from dummy and won in the declarer's hand with the ace. East was then thrown in the lead with a club, and cashed the good king of clubs.

East held the ace, jack and nine of spades and dummy held the king, ten and eight. All that Mr. Unger needed to make his contract was one trick. East played a small spade which dummy won with the king, and while East won the last two spade tricks with the ace and jack, Mr. Unger had made his contract of three no trump.

CINEMA SCREENINGS

NOTES SUPPLIED BY
THE THEATRES

William Faulkner's dramatic tale of present-day youth, "The Story of Temple Drake," is showing at the Queen's Theatre with Miriam Hopkins in the title role and Jack LaRue, William Gargan, William Collier, Jr., heading the supporting cast.

Mrs. Hopkins, cast as a wild young aristocrat, whose wildness, however, has the fortunate quality of knowing its own limits, is in love with Gargan, a young attorney. She refuses his offer of marriage because she feels she is not good enough for him.

From Gargan she goes to Collier, a drunken college boy, and they speed off in his car in search of more liquor. The ride ends in a crash and they climb from the wreckage to find themselves virtual prisoners of LaRue, a big-city gangster, in a remote, desolate hideaway.

LaRue ships the boy off to the city, and forces Temple to remain with him. He kills the only man who tries to protect her, then drags her off to the city and keeps her with him in a tawdry rooming house.

There Gargan finds her. He has been assigned to defend the man charged with the murder LaRue committed. In his search for evidence, he looks up LaRue and is horrified to discover Temple with him. The film reaches its climax in the action that follows.

"Cavalcade" presents a new form in cinema technique. Frank Lloyd, the director, digested the current forms of supervision and, after a careful dovetailing of technique emerged with "Cavalcade," the current attraction at the King's Theatre to-day.

The problem was to present a picture that spanned more than a quarter of a century and at the same time to include a trilogy of romances. On the face of it a difficult enough task, Lloyd found it almost insurmountable on paper. It was only in its subsequent shooting that the production smoothed itself out.

Lloyd noted the difference in technique existing between the stage and screen and employed all the artifice of the cinema to obtain a result contrasted with that secured in the Drury Lane production. In the stage play stagecraft was resorted to in order to achieve impressionistic effects. But in the film version Lloyd secured realism through the use of impressionism. Added to this the Fox director attended the newscasts as regularly as he did his meals.

Newscasts, according to Lloyd, are the basic gospels for all movie directors. The modern cinema, that following the old Biograph dramas depicting action as much through cutting as the action itself, is directly responsible to the influence of the newscast, Lloyd says.

Even story power, the director of "Cavalcade" learned, is bolstered through the rapid and efficient means of film cutting employed by newscast technicians. The speed at which these gentlemen work—looking at future editions in the negative and making headlines much in the manner of newspaper reporters—makes them expert in the selection of human interest values.

"Cavalcade" incorporates every quality of the visual news organ within its story. Skimming the pages of history to include the highlights of recent events, Lloyd tried to reflect the feeling of the thirty-two years without imposing historical representation, and yet retaining a favour of authenticity that makes "Cavalcade" at once documentary and entertaining.

Clive Brook, Diana Wynyard and Ursula Jeans appear in the film version of the Noel Coward success which ran at London's Drury Lane Theatre for eleven months.

"The White Sister" is capable of gay laughter, of intense drama, of tears in cascades.

That is Helen Hayes, named the "best screen actress of 1932" by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for her work in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," now co-starred with Clark Gable in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's latest version of "The White Sister" showing from Sunday at the Queen's Theatre.

Her real name is Brown, her birthplace is Washington, her father is a government employee, her education took place at the Sacred Heart Convent where among other awards she received a medal for debating.

Cute, big-eyed, it is not hard to understand why, when she was six years old, a Washington stock-company manager, induced her to play in "Poor Relations."

She became a child favourite, she played "Lord Fauntleroy" in fact, except "Little Eva." Her Washington success brought her to New York where she did child comedy sketches for Lew Fields, she was so much in demand for stage work during her childhood that her education was completed at the hands of tutors.

While still in her teens, she won outstanding notice for her portrayal opposite Alfred Lunt in "Clarence" this was followed by "Pollyanna" later became increasingly grown up with "What Every Woman Knows," "Dancing Partners," "Coquette," "Petitcoat Influence," and "The Good Fairy."

She has appeared in only five pictures in three years. "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," "Arrowsmith," "A Farewell to Arms," "The Son-Daughter" and "The White Sister" yet to-day stands as the most talked about of all cinema stars.

COUNSEL PROTESTS

ALLEGED ACCOMPLICE GIVES EVIDENCE

A protest against the way in which evidence for the Crown was presented, was lodged by Mr. Hin-shing Lo at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon when the case in which two men are charged in connexion with the armed robbery at No. 275 Des Voeux West on July 17, was continued before Mr. Balfour.

Defendants in the case are Lau Hung-yuet, a fook at the Chung Hing haberdashery shop where the robbery occurred, and Wu Shu-wing, alias Wu Ah-tsun, stated to be a fruit stall holder aboard a river steamer plying between Hongkong and Wuchow. Both were charged with robbery.

The case for the Crown was conducted by Detective Inspector M. Murphy, while Mr. Hin-shing Lo, instructed by Mr. J. M. Hall, appeared for the second defendant.

At yesterday's hearing, the prosecution produced a man Yung Kwok-sun, who was stated to be one of the gang who committed the robbery. This witness corroborated the evidence that had already been given before the Court.

"I must strongly protest against the way in which this witness has been produced," said Mr. Lo. "This witness was present at the identification parades of the two defendants, and yet no mention was made at all when Inspector Murphy opened his case. The defence was not told what sort of evidence this man would give to the Court. The main body of the evidence for the prosecution was over when this witness was produced suddenly, and corroborates all the witnesses in every material particular."

"If the prosecution was in the hands of a Crown Officer, I don't think such a thing would have been allowed to happen. I think it is a most extraordinary procedure for the Police to adopt."

Not King's Evidence.

"As far as I am concerned, I think I am entitled to know whether this man is turning King's evidence. I understand he is not. And he is not even an accomplice. He is a free man, and he can say whatever he likes in Court. We can't expect to have such evidence received in any English Court of Law."

Mr. Lo went on to argue that this witness' peculiar position would impose no restraint at all on him. He was not a man giving King's evidence. If he was, then pressure could be brought to bear on him that unless he told the truth he would not be pardoned. He was not an accomplice. An accomplice giving evidence could not give evidence against anybody else except himself in an English Court of Law. He was a free man. He might be hauled after the case was over, but a weapon of perjury was not enough to prevent a miscarriage of justice. There had been instances in the annals of criminal cases where innocent men had been convicted on the evidence of witnesses who perjured themselves. The sort of evidence this witness was giving raised a grave suspicion, not against the Police but against the man himself. He was put up at an identification parade himself, and was not identified by the inmates of the house. It did not stand to reason that he would make a full confession two days afterwards. It was an extraordinary thing for the man to do.

In his evidence, this witness stated that he was arrested in Kowloon and was taken to Canton from where he was brought down to Hongkong. He recognized the second defendant as one of his gang, having been introduced to him on the night of the robbery. He admitted that no charge was

FIGHTING PLAGUE

AUTHORITIES SEEK TO CHECK SPREAD

Dairen, Sept. 21. The serious proportions to which the plague has reached are recognised in that every health organisation has been mobilised to cope with it and to prevent the infection spreading.

Travellers are scrutinised and quarantine stations are established everywhere. Conferences are constantly being held between the medical authorities.

The Chinese Eastern Railway has announced its readiness to suspend the railway services so as to protect a spread of the plague to Chungchun and Harbin.

Fifty Dairen sanitation officers proceeded into the interior to-day and eight others have been summoned from Japan.

The infected area is bounded by Saipingkai, Payintala, Taonan, Taitaihar and Harbin. It is believed that deaths amounting to many hundreds have already occurred in this area.—Reuter.

Chinese Reports.

Peking, Sept. 21. Reports of the bubonic and pneumonic plagues, which are stated to be raging in South Manchuria, are apparently unconfirmed.

In the Taonan and Saipingkai districts foreign reports state that an outbreak of pneumonic plague is said to have occurred in villages about 30 miles from Paomen, on the north-western branch of the Chinese Eastern Railway.—Reuter.

TEN FOREIGNERS IMPERILLED

ISOLATED IN MILL

FOOD SHORTAGE THREATENING

Havana, Sept. 21.

Protected by only six "rural guards" or local military, seven British citizens and three Americans are isolated in Soledad sugar-mill, with the prospect of facing a mob of two thousand workers.

The workers are growing increasingly violent and they are demanding that they be fed while they strike for higher pay and shorter hours.

The strikers evacuated the mill after the local authorities had promised to feed them free of charge, but have threatened to return to-morrow if their wage demands are not met.

BREAD SHORTAGE.

In Havana, similarly anxious conditions prevail.

There is a shortage of bread following the closure of the whole-sale provision houses, which rejected their employees' demands for higher wages. They have ceased to deliver foodstuffs to retailers.

Many minor strikes have broken out and the longshoremen are refusing to handle Canadian products while Canada continues to give shelter to ex-President Machado. In consequence, Canadian exporters are only shipping for cash with order.

MOB VIOLENCE.

One man was killed to-day when officers guarding the house of Senator Obregon, the son-in-law of General Machado, fired on a mob which was attempting to sack the building last night.

Forty arrests were made. The situation is growing anxious and cavalry are now patrolling the streets in the neighbourhood of the Presidential Palace.—Reuter.

It is learned, on very reliable authority, that the Kwantung Army this morning conveyed a warning to Fang, informing him that he is in a demilitarised zone and requesting him to withdraw all his troops from the zone immediately.

If Fang ignore the warning, the Japanese are expected to take steps to remove him.

"EXTREMELY ALARMING MOVEMENT"

URGES DESPATCH OF FORCES

THE SOVIET IS MASSING TROOPS AND WAR SUPPLIES ON THE MANCHUKUO BORDER. FOLLOWING PARTIAL CONFIRMATION OF REPORTED PLANS BY THE PU YI ADMINISTRATION TO "REFORM" THE C.E.R.

Moscow interpretes the proposed "reforms" as virtual seizure of the railway by the Manchurian authorities and has lodged strong protests with Japan in Tokyo and Moscow.

A tense situation prevails. General Koiso, of the Kwantung Army, is advocating the immediate despatch of troops to the frontier "to see that the rights of Manchukuo are preserved and respected."

Official reports from Changchun declare that the Soviet forces are "demonstrating" with a view, it is supposed, of warning Manchukuo against seizure of the C.E.R.

SERIOUS DEVELOPMENTS POSSIBLE

Changchun, Sept. 22.

An unending stream of war supplies, including fieldguns, is now flowing into Blagovestchensk, on the Soviet border, according to official reports, which state that the Soviet troops there are equipped with gas masks and are carrying out "demonstration parades" almost daily.

The purpose of these demonstrations, it is surmised here, is to dissuade the Manchukuo Government from taking any drastic step in regard to the contemplated reforms in the administration and operation of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

POLICE DESPATCHED.

In view of the seriousness of the situation as seen through the eyes of Manchukuo officials, one hundred and fifty police officers have been hurriedly despatched to Heiho, opposite Blagovestchensk.

Meanwhile, Lt-General Koiso, the Chief of Staff of the Kwantung Army, who has just completed a tour of North Manchuria expresses his "firm conviction that Manchukuo troops and police forces should be despatched to North to quell any disturbance which might arise from the extremely alarming movement of Soviet troops to the frontier."

He declares that the Soviet is now mobilizing a powerful force of troops along the Northern border of Manchukuo and is building strong defensive works. Manchukuo, he warns, should take immediate measures to see that her rights are preserved and respected.—Reuter.

STRONG PROTEST TO JAPAN

Moscow, Sept. 22. A sharp protest against alleged Japanese plans to change the administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway has been lodged by M. Sokolnikov, former Soviet Ambassador in Britain, to the Japanese Government.—Reuter.

the Japanese Ambassador in Moscow.

The Russian Note declares that the proposed changes are inadmissible and appear to be nothing short of an attempt to seize the railway absolutely and to violate the existing order, particularly the rights of the Soviet manager of the railway, making him dependent on his Manchurian assistant.

It is also learned, says the Soviet Note, that the Manchurian authorities, under the direction of agents of the Japanese Government, are planning police measures against Soviet employees of the C.E.R.

The Soviet Ambassador in Tokyo has been instructed to make a statement on similar lines to the Japanese Government.—Reuter.

TOKYO WAR OFFICE STATEMENT

NO EXPANSION

Tokyo, Sept. 22.

Apparently intended as a reply to the article appearing in the Times in connection with the fortification of the island of Iwo Jima, the Japanese War Office has issued a statement declaring that the fortification of the island in question took place before the Washington Conference and that the defence works have never been expanded since the conference.

The same statement goes on to say that the Japanese War Office has no knowledge of any case of ruthless missionaries being refused to land on the island.

It might be that the fort authority of the island has refused on many occasions to allow foreigners to land without visas or authorized papers. This is one of the normal duties of a fort authority, whether the persons to be landed are Japanese, Chinese, or foreigners.—Central News Agency.

THE WATER SUPPLY

BIG INCREASES IN STORAGE

SATISFACTORY POSITION

Yesterday's heavy downpours have further replenished the Colony's reservoirs and further modification of the water supply restrictions may be anticipated in the near future.

The Royal Observatory recorded 1.35 inches of rain in the twenty-four hours up to ten o'clock this morning, but on the island, the average varied between 2.22 inches at Pokfulam and 2.48 inches at Tytan.

The total storage in the island reservoirs at six o'clock this morning was 1,890 million gallons, an increase of 449 million gallons in the last ten days, an appreciable increase. Less than 500 million gallons are required to fill the reservoirs to capacity, which is 2,387 million gallons.

The flow into the reservoirs is expected to continue for some days even if the rain ceases and there should be, at least, 2,000 million gallons in storage by the end of the month.

SENATORS EXPECTED TO WIN

New York, Sept. 21.

Betting commissions indicate that the Washington Senators, who to-day won the American League pennant, are 10 to 7 favourites to win the 1933 world series against the New York Giants, established as winners of the National League flag.

It will be the second time that the two teams have met in a battle for the world championship. The two clubs first met in 1924, with the Senators emerging victors by four games to three.

LOCAL STEAMER THREE DAYS OVERDUE

TAMING RELIEVES ANXIETIES

IN PORT THIS MORNING

Three days overdue and known to have been in the region affected by the severe typhoon which has now reached the Bonins, the s.s. Taming relieved anxiety in some quarters when she came into Hongkong this morning.

She was carrying a valuable cargo of over a hundred race ponies for Hongkong; this fact creating a widespread interest in her whereabouts and giving rise to apprehension. The vessel was due in Hongkong three days ago but did not arrive until shortly after seven this morning—her cargo being none the worse for the bad rolling the ship experienced in her attempt to escape from two typhoons.

The Taming, which belongs to the China Navigation Company, left Dairen on September 10 with a cargo of 110 ponies stabled between decks.

FIFTY-SIX HOUR WAIT.

All went well until she passed Bullock Harbour, about 300 miles south of Shanghai on September 17.

The weather broke up and the seas rose, and Capt. Atkins ordered the ship about and anchored in Bullock Bay. There the boat stayed for 56 hours rolling and tossing until the disturbance had passed.

She then resumed her journey and when near Amoy on Wednesday received warning of the approach of another typhoon.

ANOTHER DELAY.

The boat speeded into Amoy and anchored in shelter for about seven hours before making another bid for Hongkong. In the meantime, there was considerable anxiety here for the safety of the ship and her cargo but all fears were dispelled when news was received that she was due here this morning.

By shortly after 11 o'clock the ponies were landed safely and taken to the Jockey Club stables. The first encounter with rough weather was when the typhoon passed within 100 miles of the ship.

JAPANESE S.O.S.

An S.O.S. call from the Japanese ship Chikuzen Maru was intercepted at Hilo, at 12:38 a.m. on Tuesday.

The position of the distressed ship at the time the S.O.S. was signalled was latitude 31.27, longitude 124.40, or approximately 120 miles east of Shanghai. The ship is believed to have passed through the centre of the storm which raged along the China coast. Only one signal was intercepted and it is feared that the ship might have gone down or been wrecked.

Shipping off the Chinese coast suffered severely in the typhoon. The Taiet Maru, reported by radio she was in distress in the storm.

The Taiet Maru later wireless-ed it was safe, but the Chikuzen Maru was unheard from after its call for help.

The Dollar Lipo President Cleveland was a dry late because of the storm.

LINDBERGH FLIGHT

MAY COME TO THE FAR EAST

PLANS NOT YET CERTAIN

It is learned to-day that Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh may return to the United States via Siberia, China and Japan.

The flying couple were scheduled to leave Sweden on Tuesday for Leningrad, to inspect Russian aviation.

The Lindberghs do not definitely confirm the reports that they might return home via the Orient, but it is recalled that they have been reticent in announcing their plans more than a few days ahead during their flight to Europe from America.

It is understood if they proceed to Japan they will cross the Pacific by steamer.

The Lindberghs left the United States on July 9 and flew to Europe by easy stages on an aerial survey of a possible trans-Atlantic route for the Pan American Airways.

They proceeded via Newfoundland, Labrador, Greenland, Iceland, the Faroes, Shetlands and thence to Europe.

The couple went to Sweden to visit the home of Lindbergh's ancestors.

If Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh proceed to China and Japan it will be their second trip to the Orient by air. They flew via Canada, Alaska and Siberia to China and Japan in 1931, using the same plane as on their present trip.

CURRENCY PACT MOOTED

DOLLAR AND THE POUND

New York, Sept. 21.

The possibility of the arrangement of a currency pact between United States and Britain for fixing the relationship between the dollar and the pound is reported to be under consideration by President Roosevelt.

It is suggested by the Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post, who is responsible for the report, that the issue has arisen in connection with the forthcoming Anglo-American war debt negotiations.

He says that President Roosevelt has been consulting with Professor Mokey, Mr. Warburg, the banker and other leading experts in connection with the proposal.

There seems to be a suggestion that Mr. Montagu Norman's recent visit to the United States was not entirely disconnected with such a currency pact.—Reuter.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

"Skin toning lotions are vitally important," says one of the foremost French manufacturers of cosmetics. And he goes on to explain that they serve two purposes. They remove all traces of your cleansing cream and give your skin just enough daily stimulation.

Skin toning lotions are not to be confused with astringents. It is true that they have a slight astringent quality, but they do not increase circulation to any great extent. They are exactly what their name implies—a gentle toning for the skin.

You can get a bottle of skin
toning lotion in any shop which sells cosmetics.

After you have thoroughly
cleansed your face with cleansing
cream, saturate a piece of clean cotton with the skin toning lotion
and wipe your face and neck with
it. When dry, apply a powder base. Your face will feel cooler and cleaner, since the lotion removes all the excess cleansing
cream which cleansing tissues did

Astringents as a daily routine
are not for your face. They increase circulation artificially and anything which is artificial is not healthful if practised daily. You may use an astringent on your face occasionally, but, as a rule,
save it for your chin and neck.

Astringents on your chin and neck should be used in conjunction with a patten. The treatment will reduce your chin if it has a tendency toward becoming a double one.

In other words, every woman needs both an astringent and a skin toning lotion. Each one goes far toward preserving your natural beauty.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XXVIII

Eve entered the offices of the brokerage firm of Sloan and Sanford with trepidation. Yet she felt no urge to turn back. She had made one investment through the bank and now was exploring new fields. Eve had decided to shift the scene for her next financial venture.

She asked for Mr. Sanford and this time he was at his desk. Her naïveté must have amused him, for more than once she noticed a twinkle in his large blue-gray eyes.

"I'm through with Pure Soap," Eve told him. "I don't want to overdo any one thing, you see. I thought I might like to try one of the industrials. Will you tell me about them?"

Mr. Sanford told her about the industrials and agreed with her that it might be well to invest in one of them. He advocated Atlas Coupler. Eve placed her money on Atlas Coupler.

As she left the office she wondered vaguely what a coupler was. She had not felt like asking Mr. Sanford. At any rate, it was listed on the stock exchange. She noticed this when Charles brought the stock edition newspapers into the office that afternoon. As soon as she had time she got out the newspaper file and looked up Atlas Coupler ratings for the last two months. Yes, Mr. Sanford had told her the truth concerning the stock valuation. She could dismiss from her mind any misgivings concerning her new investment.

Eve liked the atmosphere of the brokerage house. She longed to feel the same ease of manner displayed by the men she saw trading there. Yet she could not quite smother a sense of excitement each time she visited the exchange. She formed the habit of dropping in frequently during lunch periods. Usually she asked Arlene to go with her, since she felt timid about appearing alone among a group of men devoted to watching market quotations being chalked on the board.

"I certainly got a great kick out of coming up here," Arlene assured her. "If father could only see me now! He thinks anyone who invests in stocks is bound for perdition. And he couldn't, for the life of him, understand that I'd be interested in this place without investing."

Tuesday was pay day at Bixby's and the following Wednesday found Arlene in Mr. Sanford's office with

Eve. Arlene was being initiated into making her first investment. "I think it would be fun to 'mark' in," she commented when the methods of investing were explained to her. "I'd love the excitement of it!"

So Arlene also bought Atlas Coupler.

To Eve it had always been necessary to share each new experience with some one. Only after confiding in another and reliving the event did she get the utmost joy from it. Hence her spirits were greatly exhilarated after Arlene made her investment and they watched the trend of the market together. There were days when both of them felt the stimulation of a rise of a point or two in the valuation of Atlas Coupler. And there were days when a slight decline sent them into the very depths of discouragement.

Atlas Coupler had long lain dormant, Eve learned after looking up data concerning it. After the patent rights had been secured there had been a lengthy, uncertain delay in marketing the device, owing to the power of the holding company behind the coupler that was to be displaced by Atlas. But now contracts had been signed and manufacturing had begun. A reliable brokerage concern guided the activities of the issue and demand for it caused an extended flurry in the stock. The girls had every reason to believe quick riches were to be theirs for their risk and they anticipated their return eagerly.

Eve really longed to tell Dick of her investments, but she felt she could score a greater triumph by waiting until her gains were substantial. Not that she wished to flaunt her success, she assured herself, but she must be able to justify her desire to earn her own money.

Eve felt these days an almost overwhelming sense of hope and expectancy. She attributed it to the apparently established upward trend of Atlas Coupler, but it might have been born of the springtime. Mrs. Brooks, who was in her garden at six o'clock each morning, watched for Eve often and gave her a bouquet of fragrant lilies of the valley for her desk. Then came the week toward which the entire household had been looking forward when the lilac bushes were in bloom and purple and white clusters filled the air with their fragrance.

"Dick!" called Eve softly from the shabby old front steps where she was sitting with her arms locked around her knees. Dick, lounging in a gay steamer chair on the lawn below, looked up at her. The moon was sending beams of light through the newly-leaved maple trees and fantastic shadows danced on Eve's face. "I just love this place!" she declared.

"Dick blow a curling wreath of smoke rings from his pipe upward toward the star-speckled sky. Then he answered slowly, contentedly, 'We'll never find a better place in the city.'"

"I wish we could stay here forever!" Eve went on. "I mean happy and peaceful, just as we are now."

"U-um!" responded Dick. And then Miss McElhinney, one of the teachers who lived upstairs, came out on the porch. "It's such a gorgeous evening and you look so snug here! I hope you don't mind if I join you."

She perched herself on the novel post, nearer to Dick than to Eve. Before many minutes had elapsed she was off on a monologue which threatened to continue for hours.

"You see," Miss McElhinney confided in her slow voice that held a suggestion of a lisp, "I do like to come out of my character! All day long I have to be the stern schoolmarm and after hours I long to be just the little girl I feel!"

Dick coughed but refrained from comment.

Eve studied the newcomer with some misgiving. Apparently her line was flattery.

"I think," Miss McElhinney continued, facing Dick directly, "that you are wonderful to accomplish all you do. Building that beautiful theatre! And giving orders to so many men. Engineering must be so thrilling. I used to watch you on stormy winter mornings as you waded through the snow to get your car. It was so cold I hated even to get out of bed. I would take one look at the 'frozen north' out in the yard and then slip back under the covers until almost time for the school bell to ring."

Presently the girl's voice dropped to a lower, more confidential tone that seemed to exclude Eve. She moved nearer to Dick. Twice he turned and tried to draw his wife into the conversation. Eve, angered by Miss McElhinney's impudence and irritated at Dick for not discouraging her chatter, answered in monosyllables and presently rose abruptly and went indoors.

When Dick did not follow, as she had hoped he would, she went to bed, thought it was still early. Half an hour later she heard Dorothy McElhinney's husky laugh as she bade Dick good-night in the hall. Eve fancied there was an exultant and excited note in that laugh.

Dick paused at the bedroom door with the comment that the weather had changed and a sharp breeze was blowing in from the lake. When Eve did not answer he closed the door softly and settled himself for the evening with his pipe and a book. He had made no apology, no explanation. Eve, nervous and tired, cried herself to sleep. That husky exultant laugh echoed mockingly in her ears.

JAPAN MILITARISTS SEEK SANCTION

Tokyo, Sept. 21.

Japanese military authorities have decided to seek Imperial sanction for the recreation of the four army divisions scrapped in 1925.

The addition of these divisions to the strength of the Japanese army, would bring the total up to twenty-one.

The militarists offer as the reason for their request the necessity of meeting Japan's commitments arising from the Manchukuo protocol, and other sources. It is understood, however, that they will not ask for any appropriations until 1935, unless unexpected developments arise.—Reuter.

WORLD GETS SMALLER

MAN HAS SHORTENED ITS DISTANCE

FROM 1,083 DAYS
TO WEEK

New York.

This is the story of how man has shortened the distance around the earth from 1,083 days to little over a week:

Fernando Magellan's argosy—five ships, with 280 men sailed from Seville, Spain, September 20, 1519. One ship, the Victoria, with 95 men (but not Magellan) came back in 12 days short of three years.

Sir Francis Drake's expedition sailed from Plymouth, England, in 1577 and returned in 1,052 days.

Thomas Cavendish sailed from Plymouth in 1586 and circumnavigated the globe in 781 days.

Nellie Bly—a woman newspaper reporter and first of the modern globe-trotters, went around the world from New York by boat and train in 72 days, 6 hours and 11 minutes in 1889.

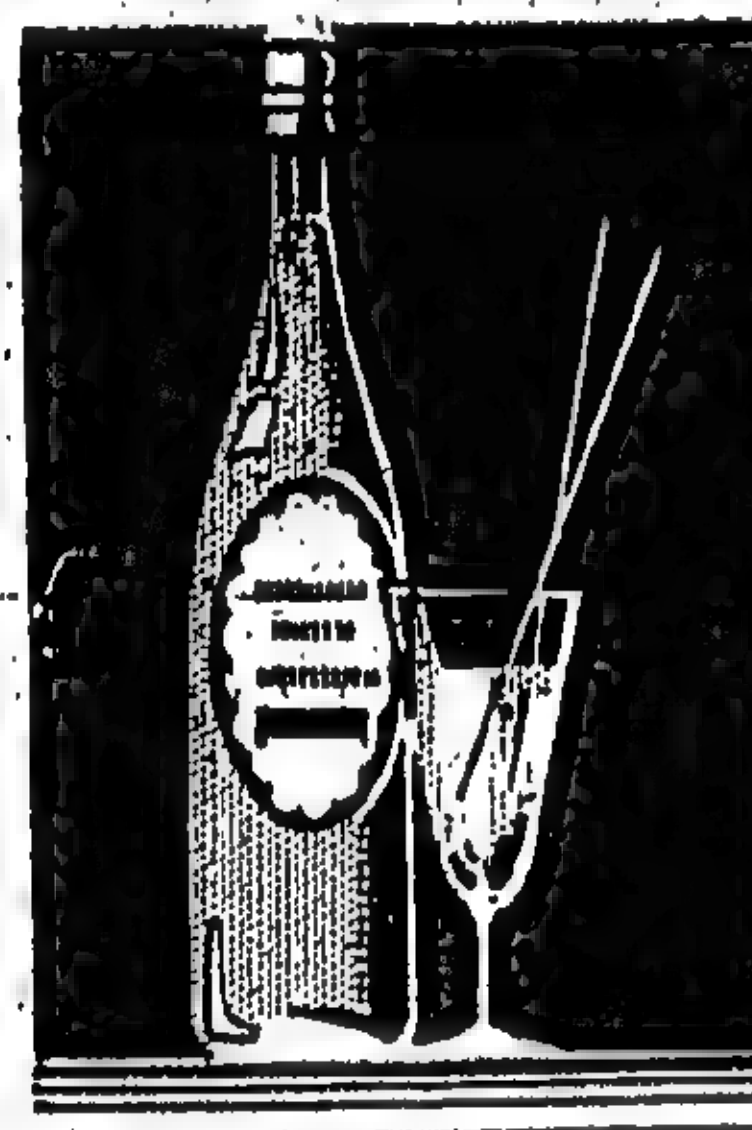

John Henry Mears—from New York in 35 days, 21 hours and 36 minutes in 1913.

U.S. Army planes—first to fly around the world, took 175 days in 1924, but actually flew only 14 days, 15 hours. They went westward from Seattle by way of Alaska, the Aleutian and Kurile Islands, China, India, Constantinople, Budapest, Paris, Glasgow, Reykjavik, Greenland, Labrador and Boston.

Edward S. Evans and Linton Wells—went around the world in 28 days, 14 hours and 36 minutes in 1926, going by boat from New York to France, plane and train to Yokohama, boat to Seattle and plane to New York.

Graf Zeppelin—flew from Lakehurst, New Jersey, around the world in 21 days, 7 hours and 34 minutes in 1929.

Wiley Post and Harold Gatty—by plane in 8 days, 15 hours and 16 minutes in 1931.—Reuter.

COUNSEL PROTESTS

ALLEGED ACCOMPLICE GIVES EVIDENCE

A protest against the way in which evidence for the Crown was presented, was lodged by Mr. Hin-shing Lo at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon when the case in which two men are charged in connection with the armed robbery at No. 275 Des Voeux West on July 17, was continued before Mr. Balfour.

Defendants in the case are Lau Hung-yuet, a fook at the Chung Hing haberdashery shop where the robbery occurred, and Wu Shu-wing, alias Wu Ah-tsun, stated to be a fruit stall holder, aboard a river steamer plying between Hongkong and Wuchow. Both were charged with robbery.

The case for the Crown was conducted by Detective Inspector M. Murphy, while Mr. Hin-shing Lo, instructed by Mr. J. M. Hall, appeared for the second defendant.

At yesterday's hearing, the prosecution produced a man Yung Kwok-san, who was stated to be one of the gang who committed the robbery. This witness corroborated the evidence that had already been given before the Court.

"I must strongly protest against the way in which this witness has been produced," said Mr. Lo. "This witness was present at the identification parades of the two defendants, and yet no mention was made at all when Inspector Murphy opened his case. The defence was not told what sort of evidence this man would give to the Court. The main body of the evidence for the prosecution was over when this witness was produced suddenly, and corroborates all the witnesses in every material particular."

"If the prosecution was in the hands of a Crown Officer, I don't think such a thing would have been allowed to happen. I think it is a most extraordinary procedure for the Police to adopt."

Not King's Evidence.

"As far as I am concerned, I think I am entitled to know whether this man is turning King's evidence. I understand he is not. And he is not even an accomplice. He is a free man, and he can say whatever he likes in Court. We can't expect to have such evidence received in any English Court of Law."

Mr. Lo went on to argue that this witness' peculiar position would impose no restraint at all on him. He was not a man giving King's evidence. If he was, then pressure could be brought to bear on him that unless he told the truth he would not be pardoned. He was not an accomplice. An accomplice giving evidence could not give evidence against anybody else except himself in an English Court of Law. He was a free man. He might be banished after the case was over, but a weapon of banishment was not enough to prevent a miscarriage of justice. There had been instances in the annals of the law where innocent men had been convicted on the basis of evidence given by perjurers. The sort of evidence this witness was giving raised a grave suspicion, not against the Police but against the man himself. He was put up at an identification parade himself, and was not identified by the inmates of the house. It did not stand to reason that he would make a full confession two days afterwards. It was an extraordinary thing for the man to do.

In his evidence, this witness stated that he was arrested in Kowloon and was taken to Canton from where he was brought down to Hongkong. He recognised the second defendant as one of his gang, having been introduced to him on the night of the robbery. He admitted that no charge was made against him by the Police. He had made the confession voluntarily.

The case was remanded until this afternoon.

WORLD CRISIS

A WAY OUT

By FREDERICK COPE, A.M.I.E.E.

Mr. Cope's striking articles on the world economic crisis which were recently published in the Hongkong Telegraph are now available in pamphlet form.

One of the features, repaying study, is the close similarity between the plan of reform suggested by this local writer, and certain aspects of the Roosevelt recovery programme. The author's ideas are naturally far too advanced for active promotion at the present time, but they are particularly interesting in view of the fact that President Roosevelt, in striking out on a path of his own, has travelled in the same direction.

The pamphlet is one of forty-four pages and can be obtained from the South China Morning Post at a cost of—

NATIONAL MEETING.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE H.K. ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

The annual general meeting of the Hongkong St. Andrew's Society will be held in the Board Room of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co. on Friday, September 29, at 6.45 p.m., for the purposes of receiving the annual report and statement of accounts for the year ending August 31, 1933, and of electing office-bearers for the ensuing year, as well as discussing any other business which may arise.

The report states that the balance at credit of the Society's general fund now stands at $2,491.41, to which falls to be added the sum of $10,000 invested in Public Works 4% Redemption Loan 1933 whilst $500 in 3½% War Loan is held for account of the late J.R.M. Smith Scholarship Fund.

A sum of $1,197.13 was expended during the year in assisting distressed Scotsmen.

The Annual Ball in celebration of St. Andrew's Day was held in the Peninsula Hotel on November 25, 1932.

Consequent on the Society's representation to the British Legion, Hongkong, the allocation by them of part of the Poppy Day contributions resulted in the sum of £188.17.6 being remitted to the British Legion, Scotland.

The Committee deeply regret to record the death of Mr. C. P. Ross.

Forty-six ordinary members were enrolled during the year and subscriptions collected amounted to $370. The Committee once again would remind all Scots in the Colony of their duty to join the Society.

The thanks of the Society are due to Mr. W. H. B. Rigg for kindly auditing the accounts for the year.

DODGING TAXATION.

N.Y. STOCK EXCHANGE TO CHANGE QUARTERS.

New York, Sept. 21. The success of the plans to organise a Stock Exchange in New Jersey, in order to avoid the taxation on stock transactions imposed by the New York Exchange, is now regarded as certain.

Six hundred and thirty-four members of the New York Exchange, including the president, Mr. James Whitney, have agreed to join the movement which was launched by 12 of the most influential firms in Wall Street.

No decision has been made regarding the location of the new Exchange. The majority favour Jersey City, but Newark has not yet been eliminated. The new Exchange may operate within a fortnight dealing initially with a limited list of stocks to which additions will be made from time to time.

Meanwhile, 5,000 employees of financial houses in Wall Street have signed a petition against the proposed tax.

The chairman of the New York Exchange is Mr. Curtis Dall, President Roosevelt's son-in-law.—Reuter.

PEKING ALARM

REBEL TROOPS IN HUAIJU CITY

Peking, Sept. 21. An official communique issued by the branch Military Council offices this afternoon, states that General Fang Chen-wu arrived in Huaiju yesterday with 2,000 troops and immediately after the occupation of the city disarmed the special police and placed under surveillance the city magistrate and the director of public safety.

The advance guard of this force is showing signs of an intended advance on Shunyi, which is less than 20 miles north of Peking.

The communique also reports that a Japanese aeroplane flew over Shunyi city this morning, and states that this is a significant thing that this aerial visit should come on the first day after the occupation of Huaiju by Fang's troops.

The Military Council discussed the situation at Huaiju but came to no decision.

Meanwhile, negotiations have been started with Colonel Shibayama, the Japanese Military attache here, for permission to send Chinese troops into Huaiju to expel the rebels.—Reuter.

RUSSIA AND JAPAN.

REPORT OF ECONOMIC ALLIANCE

Tokyo, Sept. 21. Great importance is attached to the activities of M. Baryshnikov, Director of the Soviet State Bank and a delegate to the Conference now proceeding here for the sale of the Chinese Eastern Railway, which says that M. Baryshnikov is not confining his activities to the Conference but is extending his interest to other fields, with a view to establishing an economic alliance between the Soviet and Japan. He is also reported to be organising a Russo-Japanese Bank.

The newspaper says the projected economic alliance is intended to secure a smooth flow of merchandise between the two countries, with the establishment of long-term mutual credits and the joint development of the resources of the two nations in the Far East.—Reuter.

JAPAN QUAKE

ONE KILLED WHEN COUNTRY ROCKS

Tokyo, Sept. 21. Considerable minor damage is reported from the neighbourhood of Kanazawa, a city facing the Sea of Japan, which was rocked by an earthquake at 12.30 o'clock to-day.

One person was killed and two were seriously injured when a tall chimney collapsed and scattered bricks in all directions.

Further damage was done at Nanaomachi, near Kanazawa.

A railway track was completely destroyed near Wagura, the popular hot springs and summer resort.—Reuter.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1933.

OFFENDERS

The completion of the Industrial School and Home at Aberdeen, which is expected to be ready for occupation in from fifteen to eighteen months, will mark an important stage in the improvement of local methods of dealing with young delinquents. It will do a great deal more, it is true. The institution is not intended primarily as a children's penitentiary; its more-valuable function, it is hoped, will be that of providing a means whereby the appearance of young boys in the police court may be avoided. It will perform a social service in relieving poor parents, recommended as deserving cases, of some of the anxieties of bringing up children as decent citizens within the limits of a small purse. Lads of the type filling the Street Boys' Club will be candidates for the School; it is in fact, hoped to make it a Home rather than a Reformatory. The role of reformatory, if regarded as secondary, is not, however, unimportant. To those who have any acquaintance with local police courts, it has always been obvious that the present treatment of juvenile offenders in the Colony is far from satisfactory, partly through misunderstanding of special needs and partly through lack of the proper facilities. Legislation designed to remove certain objectionable features has been passed, but some cases are still heard in open court, and those special cases, where reformatory treatment seems very desirable, have to be dealt with in other ways because of the absence of any institution of the type which is now proposed. Completion of the Aberdeen scheme will change the whole outlook, although some caution will have to be exercised even then. Most criminals, it has been found, give evidence of their tendency when quite young. Hence the need for taking the greatest trouble with youthful offenders. At once, a query arises. Who is to be responsible? The right agents are essential. It is not every boy, no matter what his offence, nor how often he has been caught out, who will respond happily to reformatory treatment even when placed in the hands of such well-disposed and experienced folk as the Salesian Fathers. There are some better dealt with by a "thrashing" and some who are

NOTES OF THE DAY

LOCAL AVIATION

Things are looking up in the field of local aviation. The Flying Training School project comes well sponsored with the approval both of the Hongkong Government and of the Air Ministry, while London forecasts that the Imperial Airways will have extended its routes to Hongkong and beyond within a period of two years. American interests are also very active, with proposals for linking Shanghai, Hongkong, Canton and Manila by daily services, which they are ready to begin as soon as approval is obtained. It looks as though the new facilities planned by Government at Kai Tak will not come before their time.

FLYING SCHOOL SCHEME

The Flying Training School will be a distinct asset in a dozen different ways. It would be a mistake to regard it as a sort of glorified Flying Club; its business is much more important, although it will cover the field of the flying club. Pilots will be trained to a high standard of efficiency and it is expected that they will come from far and wide. The business side of the undertaking is obvious. If Chinese pilots are trained in the technicalities of aircraft in Hongkong and in British machines, it would seem to follow automatically that the Chinese demand for British planes will rise steadily.

WIRELESS AND POLITICS

Wireless is increasingly coming to assert itself as a force in politics. At one moment it is Germany trying to bully Austria over the other; at another it is President Roosevelt securing popular acceptance for his National Recovery schemes by broadcast personal talks to every listener in the United States. A very good example of that latter type of effort was the talk and discussion of the Milk Marketing scheme broadcast by the Minister of Agriculture prior to the acceptance of the proposals by the milk producers. Nearly all farmers have wireless sets, and no better way to reach them could be devised.

INTERNATIONAL SIDE

Yet it cannot be denied that all these uses have their dangers. The international danger is naked and obvious; and the present international wireless agreements do little or nothing to limit it. Much might be said for forbidding high-power stations to broadcast in any language but that of their own country. But even that would not meet cases like those of Germany, Austria, and Switzerland, or of Holland and Flanders, or of Great Britain and the Irish Free State; where one area may legitimately employ the language of another.

THE DOMESTIC SIDE

The use of wireless by Governments to carry their policies in their own countries raises a different problem. As employed by President Roosevelt or Major Elliot, it may render a great public service. But it can easily degenerate into an exercise of undue influence by the party for the moment in power. In Germany and Italy there is no desire to avoid this; and no disguise about it. In Britain every party (except the Communists and perhaps Sir Stafford Cripps's extremist clique) wishes to avoid it. The new B.B.C. experiment in arranging for representative broadcasts from each of the Parliamentary parties will be watched with interest.

more likely to "come through" if placed under the watchful eye of a thoroughly-trained Probation Officer. The creation of such a post has already been strongly recommended and the importance of the work it is possible for such an official to do cannot be over-estimated. Provided Magistrates do not ask of him the impossible. Clearly, the greatest responsibility rests with the Magistrate, and his task of rendering a decision in juvenile cases will never be an enviable one; it may make or mar for life.

SET A WOMAN TO CATCH A WOMAN

SCOTLAND YARD'S NEW RECRUITS

By F. W. MEMORY

SCOTLAND Yard is moving with the times. That, perhaps, sums up the appointment of four women as regular members of the Criminal Investigation Department of the Metropolitan Police.

As a matter of fact, the appointment is overdue; it could have been made with advantage years ago. It has been delayed, I presume, because it represents a stride forward in official criminal investigation of an almost revolutionary character and one which naturally conservative officialdom hesitated to make.

But the move is made, and now the whole country awaits with interest the outcome.

There need be no doubt as to the wisdom of the venture or qualms with regard to its success.

ASSETS.

The fight type of woman is a born detective. She starts with advantages—they might even be described as idiosyncrasies—peculiar to her sex which fit her for patient and intricate inquiry, while her inborn inquisitiveness and, if one may say so, her insatiable desire to know somebody else's business are assets which, if properly developed, will be of inestimable value to an officer of the C.I.D.

Of course, they will have to be trained in police methods and procedure, and the real test of their worth as detective officers will be the thoroughness with which this training is assimilated, and improved upon by their own initiative. The authorities have no doubts with regard to this, for although there have never been official appointments such as those now made, policewomen—and there are some hundreds of them in the country—have been used on investigation work for years past and proved themselves worthy of the trust reposed in them.

IN SECRET SERVICE.

I think it was in Lancashire ten or more years ago that a woman was first used for detective work in connection with a police force—they have been employed as private inquiry agents and house detectives for much longer than that—while during recent years the Metropolitan Police Force has also used women for "plain-clothes" inquiries.

Some women play already a very considerable part in the organisation of Scotland Yard and its more or less associate department commonly known as the Secret Service. There is one young woman, petite and charming, who probably knows more about Communists, Anarchists, and Bolsheviks than any male officer not only in England but in Europe—which is fairly clear evidence that the discretion in police matters of carefully selected women can be relied upon.

It has been a long-standing complaint that in certain classes of cases concerning women, male investigators have been handicapped in their inquiries, and there is every reason to assume that women detectives will fare much better. But there is one point to be made clear at once. The new recruits to the Criminal Investigation Department are described as "full members," a phrase which means, if it means anything at all, that they will do exactly the same kind of work as the male officers, and not be restricted to cases affecting women and children.

That is exactly as it should be. There is no reason why the right type of woman should not be just as successful as a man in unravelling cases of fraud, or even of murder, for in these inquiries nine-tenths of the investigation is careful, systematic, and unceasing inquiry.

That women are capable of this is borne out by the fact that the Egyptian Government have for some time employed two Englishwomen to assist Russell Pasha's special police in the complicated and dangerous task of unravelling the secrets of the drug gangs.

To-day more and more women are taking to crime. It is an old adage that it takes a poacher to catch a poacher, and by the same token why should it not be to the advantage of the law to employ women to catch women? A woman detective, better than a man, will be able to appreciate and counter, by reasons of psychology, the moves of a woman criminal. That at least is the experience of the great business houses which use women detectives to frustrate shoplifters.

HOW WILL THEY FARE?

How will women members of the C.I.D. fare against the male criminal, particularly against the well-educated, debonair young men who now in increasing numbers are unfortunately following the path of crime? That, of course, raises a question as to the class of women to be enrolled as detectives.

Sex appeal has no place whatever in criminal investigation, although it is cultivated to the full by women employed by the Secret Services of all nations. In history there is hardly a general who has gone forth to battle, or a king who has fostered from his throne, who has not been subjected to the machinations of a siren of this type.

The pages of history are sprinkled with their doings, and there is one who was perhaps in a class apart—one who may be regarded as the first woman detective—Delilah, the Philistine of Sorek. It will be remembered she was engaged by the "lords of Philistia," much as a private inquiry agent might be employed to-day, to discover the secret of Samson, the Danite. How she succeeded the ruins of Gaza bear witness to-day.

The Very Idea!

ROMANCE

By Edward Kelly, Romeo.

WE have a passionate nature.

The Kellys, as you probably know, have always been highly strung—particularly our great grandfather, who was strung up in 1848 for running away with a worthless piece of rope.

Unfortunately he had neglected to remove the horse that was fastened to the other end of the rope.

But who wouldn't be romantic and highly strung at this time of the year. Here it is nearly autumn, and when the rain lets up the birds twitter in the trees.

Even the Editor twittered this morning, when he came in at 11 a.m. and found us writing poetry instead of the Very Idea. Ah, romance! That's why we became a journalist. We heard about the romance of journalism. Getting your cheque at the end of the month. That's romance! Borrowing $10 off the cashier in the middle of the month. That's more romance! Dodging romantic shroffs. Paying our bills. That's romancing.

We are all romantic on this paper. Romantic reporters flit hither and thither. A romantic sub-editor thinks out snappy romantic headlines. Another romantic reporter rings up a romantic weather bureau and is told some romance about typhoons. There's romance everywhere. It was the same when Babylon was young and they made whoopee in Nineveh. Romantic newspapermen of the days of Rome romantically chopped out in stone their story of Caesar's romance with Cleopatra.

We know now, by reading the old Romantic Times, how Caesar sought to conquer fair Cleo's heart with jewels.

Knowing that lovely lady's passion for precious stones, the romantic Caesar conquered Gaul, and came home with Gaul stones.

But we're not going to bore you with an account of Caesar's operation. It's enough that we're going to tell you a thing or two about our own.

Editor's note: "Not in this newspaper, you won't!"

Editor's note: "How about just one paragraph?"

Editor's note: "Not a line."

Editor's note: "Okay. But you wouldn't talk to us that way if we didn't have a romantic wife and two kids to support."

Editor's note: "That's the trouble with this paper. Everybody but the Editor believes in romance. Even our readers are romantic."

Journalism is romance run Reuters. Sitting on our swivel chair, with our feet up on the paper, we can close our eyes, and in our romantic fancy, transplant ourselves to the Hongkong Hotel, or some other such romantic place.

And what has the Water Authority got up its sleeve? Something romantic, we'll bet. If Mr. Tickle—

Romantic sub-editor's notes: "Cuckoo! Cuckoo!"

A TEASER

A boat leaves Hongkong every day at noon for Yokohama and gets there seven days later at noon. A boat of the same line leaves Yokohama every day at noon, arriving in Hongkong seven days later at noon. A passenger leaves Hongkong one Sunday and sees the boat from Yokohama moving into the wharf as his boat pulls out. How many company boats (not counting his own) has he seen, whether being perfect when he reaches Yokohama the following Sunday?

A WAR TRAGEDY

General Ah Gaw Bilmo returned triumphantly from the war. For two whole years he had been fighting the communists, and he had longed for his place in Hongkong, where his Shug Ah Babi, his wife, was waiting for him.

He mounted the front steps at a gallop. Shug Ah met him at the door and he crashed her to his manly bosom.

"Shug Ah," he whispered tenderly. "The General could whisper tenderly in English, otherwise we wouldn't be able to tell this story."

"Shug Ah," he whispered tenderly. "For two whole years I have waited for this moment. Now, where is the apple of my eye, my baby child, whom I have not yet seen?"

"Shug Ah," he said, "the Lord into the nursery, where a fair-haired, blue-eyed boy was playing with his toys."

"But, Shug Ah," he said, "the General, against his own orders, had taken my boy and married him to a girl from Yokohama."

THE HAPPY END

"We should start thinking about that future, I don't want to know any of our friends."

ANGLO-FRENCH DISARMAMENT TALKS

RESUMING TO-DAY

MR. BALDWIN TO BE PRESENT

MR. DAVIS GIVES WARNING

London, Sept. 22. The Anglo-French conversations on the draft disarmament convention will be resumed to-morrow following a luncheon to be given at the Embassy in Paris by the British Ambassador, Lord Tyrrell.

Sir John Simon and Captain Anthony Eden will fly to Paris to-morrow morning to take part in the conversations and will be joined by Mr. Stanley Baldwin, who is at present in the French capital.

The French Government representatives will be the Premier, M. Daladier and the Foreign Minister, M. Paul Boncour.

Sir John Simon and Captain Eden, with M. Boncour, will leave for Geneva for the League Council and Assembly meetings at the conclusion of the conversation and M. Daladier will probably travel to Geneva on Monday.—British Wireless.

FRANCE WARNED.

A cable from Paris states that America has warned France through Mr. Norman Davis that unless the world disarmament conference gets down to business and quits dilly-dallying over arms reductions, the United States will wash its hands of the whole programme.

Mr. Davis revealed that President Roosevelt was ready to extend full and practical collaboration in disarmament effort, but will insist that the conference show some signs of accomplishment in a reasonable length of time.

However, Roosevelt has no new plan, as has frequently been rumoured; but intends to stand on the wide proposals already made.

BRITISH PLAN.

The British plan, it was indicated, will have America's full support.

It provides for limitation on offensive weapons of war, and equalization of European armies after stabilization. That is, Germany, Italy, France and Poland would be allowed armies of 200,000 men each on European soil, additional in her colonies, and Italy 50,000. Czechoslovakia would be allowed 100,000, Russia 500,000 and Spain 170,000.

However, it was reliably understood that Great Britain, through Mr. Norman Davis, intimated that America's new naval building programme is likely to dampen the enthusiasm for disarmament at Geneva.

TO RESUME ON OCT. 16.

The United States recently started building 32 new warships, with reconstruction funds, although these were within the treaty limits. At the time it was revealed that the United States was far behind Britain and Japan in the matter of building up to treaty strength.

The Geneva conference is scheduled to resume on October 16. Many observers in Paris believe that Mr. Davis' threat of "washing hands" sounds the dying note of the conference. The conference, facing a deadlock, went into recess shortly before the world economic conference, hopeful that the latter would develop some new lines for disarmament to follow. The economic conference achieved little and offered nothing new in the way of disarmament ideas, hence the conference will resume with no great amount of hope.

FIRE-CRACKERS BANNED

CHINESE PROTESTS IN BATAVIA

Batavia, Sept. 21. Following the example of the Straits Settlements, the Netherland East Indies is taking steps to ban the use of firecrackers. This has evoked a strong protest from the Chinese communities in Batavia and Sourabaya, who contend that the Government has no right to interfere in religious observances.

They also contend that if the Government insists on the ban, it should take over the stocks of firecrackers held by merchants to compensate them for any loss, or should defray the expense of sending back the stocks to China.—Reuter.

SIDKY PASHA RESIGNS

CONCERN FELT IN BRITAIN

THE PROBLEM OF EGYPT

Cairo, Sept. 21.

The Prime Minister, Sidky Pasha, has tendered his resignation on the ground of ill-health, an announcement which will cause some concern in British quarters.

Sidky Pasha has enjoyed a great reputation for honesty of purpose and strength of character and his disappearance from leadership of the country will be deeply regretted.

He began his career in the Egyptian Civil Service and his duties brought him frequently into contact with British officials and he won their esteem both by his intelligence and by his unusual gift (for an Egyptian) of being able to grasp a financial problem.

NOT AN EXTREMIST.

After holding various administrative posts he was given a judgeship. In 1921, however, he resigned and accepted the portfolio of Finance in Adly's Cabinet. He held it also under Sarwat, but went out of office when Zaghlul came into power early in 1924, as he was entirely out of sympathy with the extremist views of the Wafd party. Before the end of the year, however, he was back in office as Minister of the Interior under Ahmed Ziwar.

It was then that he gave an example of his fearless strength of mind. On an occasion when there was ferment in Cairo and danger of an outbreak of violence he issued a special order to Zaghlul, whose following was still powerful, to remain indoors and saw that the order was enforced.

STRONG MAN.

The services he performed at that period have led to his being regarded as the strong man who saved Egypt from chaos. The Wafd, however, returned to power, first under Zaghlul and after his death under Nahas.—The latter in 1920 went to London to try to secure a treaty settling the issues between Egypt and Britain, but the negotiations broke down over Nahas's demands concerning the Sudan. Soon after his return to Cairo difficulties arose and Sidky was chosen to succeed him as Premier in June, 1930.

In August of that year he had a narrow escape from assassination. A man armed with hatchet was captured at the entrance to the railway carriage in which Sidky was travelling.

He had meanwhile grappled with the economic crisis and had taken steps to cut down expenditure by a large sum without interfering with any projects of importance.—Reuter.

SPEEDING IN CONTROLLED AREA

EXCESSIVE USE OF ACCELERATOR

Mr. C. F. Wood was summoned before Mr. Wynne-Jones this morning with exceeding the speed limit of 20 miles an hour on the Castle Peak Road.

Traffic-Sergeant Scrim said defendant travelled faster than 20 miles an hour through the controlled area in Tsun Wan Village where sign posts were erected for the guidance of drivers. Slow and cautious driving was especially necessary in that district.

Defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $10.

DAY BY DAY NEWS IN BRIEF

RASHNESS BRINGS SUCCESS TO FEW MISFORTUNE TO MANY.—Phaedrus.

The death has taken place at Blackheath Village, Surrey, of Mr. O. H. E. Broyer, a commercial traveller who was well-known in the East.

A charge of perjury was brought against Kwan Wai-chow before Mr. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning. Defendant was alleged to have made a false affidavit against a woman, Loung Fung-shu, residing at No. 387 Homestay Road. The case was remanded for a week.

AUSTRALIA AND THE TESTS

TOUR REGARDED AS CERTAIN

THE ITINERARY ISSUED

Sydney, Sept. 21.

Judging from the fact that the itinerary for the Australian team has already been drawn up, it is regarded as virtually certain that Test matches between England and Australia will be played in 1934.

That the tour will take place despite the friction of the last few months, says Reuter, is now almost certain. It is significant that the itinerary was announced subsequent to the meeting this afternoon of the Australian Board of Control. It includes provision for

Five Test Matches at Nottingham, June 8.

Lords, June 22.

Manchester, July 6—

Leeds, July 20.

Oval, August 18.

All of the Tests will be of four days' duration unless the rubber depends on the final match, which will be played to a finish.

SECRET MEETING.

Great secrecy was maintained at the meeting to-day presided over by Mr. Oxlade.

Matters were discussed before tea and again after the adjournment, but the meeting was held in camera, and after dinner a cable was compiled to be sent to the M.C.C.

It was believed that it would be sent to-night, but no information was made available to the Press. Later Mr. Jeames announced that the Board was continuing its negotiations, but otherwise refrained from revealing anything of the remainder of the proceedings.—Reuter.

STRIKE THREAT FAILS

PEACE MAINTAINED IN SPAIN

Madrid, Sept. 18.

The day of Spain's threatened general strike arrived to-day without disorders in Madrid or the country.

Civil guards were out en masse, guarding roads and streets, to prevent trouble.

The Premier, Senor Lerroux, anticipated efforts to unsettle his government of a few days' standing, and took drastic steps to thwart the effort of his opponents.

TOBACCO AND MATCHES

STATE MONOPOLIES CONSIDERED

Shanghai, Sept. 20.

The Executive Yuan is understood to be studying seriously the proposal of the Ministry of Industry that a state monopoly on tobacco and matches be established for revenue purposes, it is reported in dispatches from Nanking.

Possibly other articles of common use would be included in the monopolies.

U.S. NAVAL BUILDING

DETERMINED TO GO AHEAD

BRITISH CAUTION DENIED

President Roosevelt is determined that the United States shall bring its navy up to full treaty strength, regardless of any complications abroad at the Geneva disarmament conference, it is learned from high sources in Washington.

At the same time the State Department denies rumours that Britain has asked the United States to suspend its navy building programme, now under way with reconstruction funds.

The revelation was viewed as significant, inasmuch as it was synchronous with the statement in Paris by America's disarmament ambassador, Mr. Norman Davis, that unless the Geneva conference produced some results the United States would "wash its hands" of the entire affair.

MOVE LOGICAL.

Developments are accepted as logical by observers in the light of earlier statements by Secretary of Navy Claude Swanson on the administration's determination to bring up the navy's efficiency to its maximum point.

Completion of the U.S. Navy's 37-ship building programme will establish virtual parity between the American and British navies but will fail to give America its treaty preponderance of about 5 to 3 over the Japanese Navy, special tables prepared by the navy department show. The tables show the indicated tonnages of the three fleets in 1936 when the London and Washington Treaties expire.

Under those treaties America may add 204,380 tons to its navy above the present building programme. Britain may increase its fleet by 197,628 tons. Japan, having built more rapidly, will have only 600 tons of treaty tonnage left after completion of its recently announced building programme. That 600 tons is in the heavy cruiser category. Presumably it cannot be used, as 10,000 tons are required for this class of ship.

INFERIOR IN SUBS.

On the basis of present building programmes, America would be vastly superior to Japan in battle-ships, aircraft carriers and heavy cruisers when the naval treaties expire in 1936, and inferior in light cruisers, destroyers and submarines. Hence American naval circles favour a large building programme in these latter categories.

Under the Washington treaty, limiting battleships and aircraft carriers, and the London Treaty defining cruiser, destroyer and submarine strength, the following tonnages were allotted:

United States ..... 1,186,200
Great Britain ..... 1,201,700
Japan ..... 768,050

If no further building programmes are undertaken, the strength of the three navies in 1936, allowing for replacement ships laid down before 1936 to be completed in 1937-38-39 would be:

United States ..... 941,000
Great Britain ..... 999,000
Japan ..... 772,000

The Japanese excess of treaty allotment is accounted for by replacement ships.

THE WHEAT AND COTTON LOAN

FIRST CONSIGNMENT ARRIVING

Shanghai, Sept. 22.

The agency for handling the U.S. Cotton and Wheat Loan, which is organised by the Central Bank of China, announces that the first consignment of the loan cotton is on its way to China and its arrival at Shanghai is expected next month. The agency makes it clear that the Government has determined not to sell any part of the loan cotton to Japanese merchants.

The Financial and Industrial Ministries will jointly organise a Commission to supervise the transportation and marketing of the loan cotton and wheat.—Central News Agency.

Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Goldsmith sailed in the Empress of Russia to-day on a brief holiday to Japan.

GUIDE AND SCOUT CONCERT

TO-MORROW'S SHOW

A Guide and Scout Concert is being held to-morrow evening at St. Paul's Girls' College, Kennedy Road, proceeds of the entertainment being in aid of a very worthy cause.

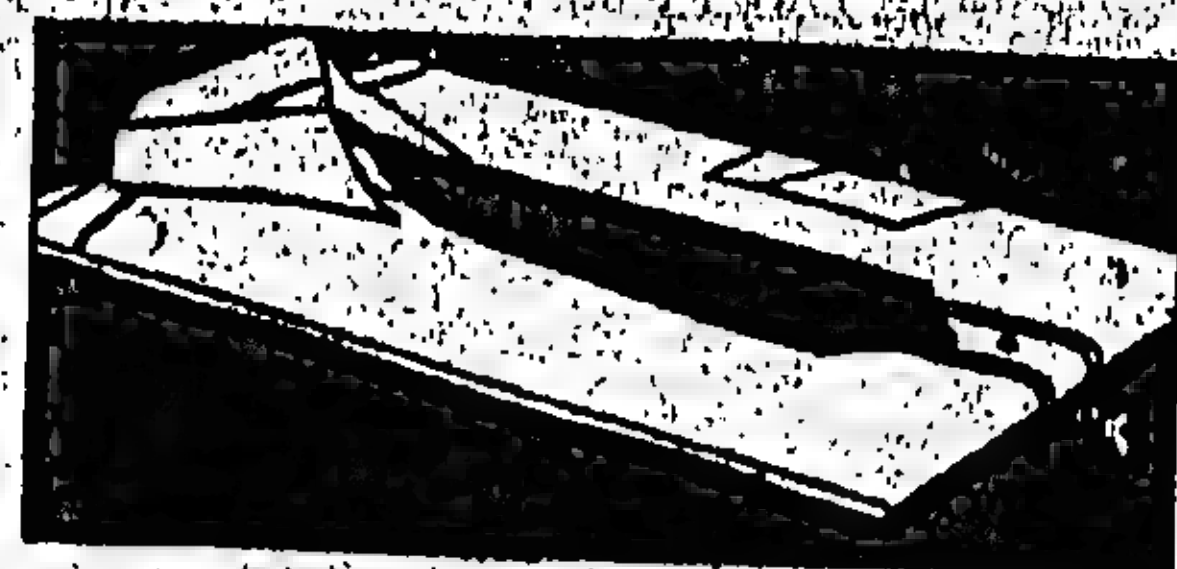

Perhaps the success of any concert is assured when it is known that Mr. G. W. True's Cheer Band is part of the programme, but when to this is added that the Misses Stella and Helen Ho, the classical dancers, and Mr. E. F. Selk, of local club-swinging fame, are also taking part, not only is success a foregone conclusion, but the organizers can be assured that the attendance will adequately compensate them for the time and expense involved in producing an entertainment of this description.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to Guide and Scout Charities, a cause that is undoubtedly worthy. It only because it brings into the lives of young people, members of the Guide and Scout Movements, recreation and happiness and a useful training in a variety of subjects which, in all probability they would not receive from other sources.

CLOUDY AND SHOWERY

The Royal Observatory reports that a weak anti-cyclone extends from the Lower Yangtze Valley south-eastward to the Loochoos. The typhoon has moved into the Pacific to the east of the Bonins. Local Forecast—East winds, moderate, cloudy, showery.

YORKSHIRE CRICKET IN THE OLDEN DAYS

By "HISTORICUS"

MORE MATCHES WITH SURREY

The first of the 1875 matches was played at Bramall Lane on June 14, 15 and 16, and like the second of the 1874 matches, resulted in a victory for Yorkshire by 4 wickets. Surrey batted first, making 188 (Jupp 60, J. Swann 22 and Street 21). Of the Yorkshire bowlers, Hill had to his credit 6 wickets for 28 runs, Lockwood 2 for 21 and Ulyett 1 for 12. Yorkshire, in response, made 185 (Jupp 106, Andrew Greenwood 61, George Ulyett 29, C. Ullathorne 10, John Howells 25 and George Pinder 13). For Surrey, Southerton took 7 wickets for 82 and Street 3 for 67.

Surrey's second venture brought them 121 runs (Jupp 30, J. Potter 18, and A. Freeman 17)—Ulyett capturing 7 wickets for 40 runs, Armitage 1 for 5 while Hill could only capture 1 for 50.

Yorkshire lost 6 wickets in making the 76 runs requisite to enable them to win. Andrew Greenwood (their only "double-figure" batsman) scoring 40 (not out) of these. For Surrey, Southerton and Street each took 2 wickets for 31 runs and Wheeler 1 for 11.

The second of the 1875 matches took place at Kennington Oval on August 10, 17 and 18. Surrey had bad luck in this match—Jupp being too ill to appear after the first day's play and Humphrey suffering from a damaged hand.

Surrey took first innings and scored 182 (Jupp 13, Mr. A. P. Lucas—who in 1883 played for Middlesex—30, Mr. G. Strachan 13, Pooley 12, G. Elliott 52 (not out) and Southerton 24). Clayton was the most successful Yorkshire bowler with 5 wickets for 40 runs, Emmott capturing 2 for 40 and Lockwood and Hill 1 each for 26 and 52 respectively.

Yorkshire's first innings total was 161 (J. Hicks 60, George Ulyett 29, B. Lockwood 18, T. Armitage 27 (not out) and Joseph Rowbotham 12). For Surrey, Southerton took 6 wickets for 51 runs and Street 3 for 89. In their second innings, Surrey made 105 (Mr. A. P. Lucas 40, Mr. W. W. Read 40 (not out) and Mr. G. Strachan 12). Emmott having to his credit 4 wickets for 14 runs, Lockwood 3 for 10 and Oleyton and Hill 1 apiece for 20 and 40 respectively.

Set with 127 to obtain to win, Yorkshire were successful for the loss of only 2 wickets—J. Hicks scoring 9, Joseph Rowbotham 18 and Andrew Greenwood and T. Armitage 19 and 68 (both not out) respectively—but it would appear that Surrey considerably discounted their chances of winning by having fielding—Armitage being missed no less than four times. The two Yorkshire wickets were taken by Southerton (1 for 58) and Strachan (1 for 34).

We now come to the 1876 matches, the first whereof had Bramall Lane as its venue and took place on June 19 and 20. Surrey took first innings, but finding the bowling of Armitage somewhat difficult, could only manage to put together 74—Jupp 37, not out, and G. Elliott 13 being the only batsmen to acquire double-figures. For Yorkshire, Armitage had to his credit 5 wickets for 20 runs, Hill 2 for 35 and Emmott 1 for 16.

Yorkshire then went in and scored 178 (M. Myers 16, T. Armitage 47, George Ulyett 46 and Andrew Greenwood 20 not out). For the Surrey bowlers, Southerton and Barratt had the best analyses with 5 wickets for 30 runs and 3 for 52 respectively.

Surrey then entered upon their second essay, but Armitage (7 wickets for 28 runs) and Hill (2 for 15) were too deadly for them, and the innings proved a veritable "procession", amounting to no more than 41, Jupp (12) being the only batsman with double-figures. Yorkshire thus earning the victory by an innings and 58 runs. Armitage's "analysis" for the match being 18 wickets for 46 runs.

The return match, played at Kennington Oval on August 21, 22 and 23 produced a keen struggle, Yorkshire eventually winning by 24 runs only.

Yorkshire batted first and finding the pitch very difficult in consequence of the recent heavy rain, could only make 68 (M. Myers 11, Ulyett 21 and Allen Hill 11)—Southerton capturing 4 wickets for 30 runs and Barratt 2 for 37.

Surrey in their first innings, did better than Yorkshire by 50 runs, but in the main, owed their total of 118 to two men, namely, Mr. W. W. Read 60 and Mr. Chandler 20—there being no other double-figure batsmen.

Yorkshire utilised the services of five bowlers, of whom the most successful were Hill with 5 wickets for 21 runs, Lockwood with 3 for 24 and Emmott with 2 for 20.

Yorkshire then took their second innings, the total whereof (161) was more than double that of their first essay—the principal contributors being E. Lockwood with 78, M. Myers with 20, D. Eastwood with 10 and R. Clayton with 21. For Surrey, Street captured 5 wickets for 22 runs and Barratt 2 for 65.

Left with 102 runs to get to win, Surrey found the Yorkshire bowling too good, and could only make 77, Emmott taking 5 wickets for 40 runs and Hill 4 for 18.

Two more matches took place in 1877 whereof the first was played at Bramall Lane on June 19, 19 and 20 and ended in a victory for Surrey—their first since June 1872.

Surrey had first innings and made 187 (R. Humphreys 10, Mr. J. Carmichael 21, Mr. S. H. Akroyd 48, Barratt 18, Mr. G. Strachan 16 and C. G. Jones 12). Yorkshire indulged in a plethora of bowlers, no less than seven (including George Pinder—the wicket-keeper) being tried. Of these, Ulyett took 4 wickets for 15 runs, Barratt 2 for 19, Emmott 2 for 20,

PRACTICE GAMES TO-MORROW

(By "Veritas")

One or two changes have been made in the composition of the Club teams to oppose the Lincolns in to-morrow's practice football matches.

The seniors are trying out a new goalkeeper in R. E. Hills, who comes from Singapore with a useful reputation as a custodian, whilst Williams, who last week figured in the reserves, and showed a great deal of promise, is being given a try out with the seniors at inside right.

C.A. Wright, who made his debut for the Club at centre-half a fortnight ago, has since been in hospital for malaria, and at the moment is convalescing.

He will not make a return to the team until he is absolutely fit, and to-morrow his place is being filled by Skinner, who usually plays wing half.

This allows J. Watson, an old Club stalwart to come in at right half, and Andy Duncan, of course, continues to occupy the other flank.

Desmond Hynes is partnering Sydney Strange in the defence, and with Bickford, E. Strange and Howe turning out, the Club should be able to give another good account of themselves.

In the reserves, three alterations have been made. Lowe displaces Lammert at right back, Farrow comes in for Wood at centre-forward and Dunhill takes Williams' place at inside left.

Otherwise the team remains the same as that which beat the Lincolns last week. The half back line is intact. The form of Dunhill and Lowe will be watched with interest.

TEAMS.
The club teams will be:
1st XI—R. E. Hills; D. Hynes, and S. Strange, J. Watson, F. Skinner and A. Duncan; Fowler, Williams, A. Howe, E. Strange and Bickford. Reserve—Tavin.

2nd XI—Simmonds; Lowe and M. Ralston; McKellar, Boyd and Gamble; Fisher, Bell, Farrow, Dunhill and Sloan.

KOWLOON'S TEAM To Meet The Saints To-Morrow

It will not come entirely as a surprise to Kowloon supporters to find there are one or two alterations in the team which opposed the Recreio last Saturday for to-morrow's practice match with St. Joseph's.

Ford, the new goalkeeper has been passed over for Gurevitch, but I imagine this is not because Ford was considered a failure last week, but rather to give Gurevitch the opportunity of revealing his current form.

Whitfield is an absentee to-morrow, permitting Willis to come in at right back and Jones to take up his proper position at centre-half.

Webb has been shifted from the forward line and occupies the right half position, whilst G. White has been brought in on the right wing, to allow Hill to go inside right.

Coulthly, Bliss, Elliott, V. White and Blake retain their places of a week ago.

On paper this side looks as good as any Kowloon can turn out. I rather fancy Willis will strengthen the defence, and Hill should make a more effective partner to Elliott than did Webb. The last named may very likely shake down into a good half back, which means that if Jones maintains his form, the intermediate line will be par excellence.

The selected team, who will be on view on the Railway Ground at 4.30 is:

Gurevitch; Willis and Coulthly; Webb, Jones and Bliss; G. White, Hill, Elliott, V. White and Blake. The Kowloon second string will indulge in their first practice of the season, when they entertain the Club de Recreio at 8.30.

Fred Perry.

BEATEN ONCE AGAIN

HIS BLACK YEAR OF 1933

Los Angeles, Sept. 21. Ellsworth Vines fell another step down the ladder of disillusioned aspirations to-day, when, in the quarter finals of the Pacific South West Coast tennis championships, he was decisively beaten by Jack Tidball, hitherto obscure American player by two sets to one.

Vines won the first set very comfortably, but thereafter his touch and confidence deserted him, and Tidball, thriving on Vines' errors captured the next two sets after 22 games.

Vines will remember 1933 as the most disastrous year in his career. Starting off as recognised world's champion, being holder of the Wimbledon and American titles, he went

ARTILLERY WIN THE ARMY AQUATICS

HIGH STANDARD SWIMMING AT THE V.R.C. YESTERDAY

Though no records were broken, swimming and diving of a high quality were features of the Army athletics held at the Victoria Recreation Club yesterday.

The programme was arranged by the Hongkong Area Sports Board under the patronage of H.E. Major-General O. C. Borrett, C.B., C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O., who was present to congratulate the Army Artillery for winning the Aggregate Cup and other competitors for their successes.

Mr. Borrett presented the trophies to the winners in the dance hall of the Club. Outstanding among the events were the Army Championship for 150 yards, swim in three styles and won by L/Cpl. Fullager, S.W.B., and the Army Championship for straight swimming, won by the same distance swimmer, L/Cpl. Campbell, S.W.B., who Fullager, who was the only competitor to swim in both these races, finished third in a field of four.

High diving from a 14 feet stand provided some graceful efforts, but Pto. Morrison won 68 points, was five ahead of his nearest rival. A number of the men gave an exhibition of fancy diving while the results were being decided.

The intense keenness of the relay teams made these the most attractive of the afternoon. The 20th Bty. R.A. in winning the Inter-Bty. Coy. Relay made a time of 2 mins. 11.1/5 secs. over the 300 yards, which was 54.4/5 secs. better than last year's effort.

The 50 yards free style event for Indians was clocked at 34.3/5 secs.—an improvement of 2.2/5 secs.

Fullager won his Championship in 2/5 sec. faster time than was recorded last year, whilst the straight 150 yards showed slower time by 6.1/5 secs.

Following the presentation of the awards, Maj. Gen. Borrett said he wished, on behalf of the spectators and others interested in the sports, to thank the men who had taken the water. Though no records were broken, he felt that they could congratulate themselves on the swimming and diving. He had seen the water polo matches and the harbour race in which the S.W.B.'s gained a remarkable success and he con-

A. A. DAND DECIDES TO PLAY

POPULAR HOCKEY PLAYER WILL TURN OUT FOR CLUB

SOUND ST. ANDREW'S TEAM

By "Bully-Off"

THE call of the game has apparently been too strong for A.A. Dand, the captain of the Hongkong Hockey Club, and in direct contradiction to his previous decision, announced in the Telegraph a few weeks ago, has decided to continue playing this season. This new announcement will be greeted with genuine pleasure by all the local hockey fraternity, for Dand, who has done more for hockey in this Colony than anyone else, is one of the most popular figures both on and off the field. Dand will not appear at the centre half in the practice games next week, but will remain captain of the senior team for this season.

WITH more than thirty players on their list the Y.M.C.A. are looking forward to a successful season. They have several members who are new to the game but in the practices already held, they have shown such enthusiasm and promise that it would not surprise me to see them replacing some of the older hands towards the end of the season. They have yet to master the finer points of the game.

THERE will be very few alterations in the 1st team from last year. For the first couple of months they will be without the services of T. J. Price, left wing, A. Tate, back and R. A. Bates at left half, but will have excellent substitutes.

BETWEEN the sticks will be S. Shields. He saves well but is inclined to waste time getting into position for hitting, and is often over eager. He would also improve his game by staying more in goal. G. Owen and E. O. Murphy will be at full back. Both know their work and do it well.

THERE is a wealth of centre-halves, including D. McLellan (Capt.), H. J. D. Lowe, who is captaining the H. K. Club "A" team this year, and Sommer. All three are reliable men but I think McLellan will be the regular player. H. Lange is a new comer to hockey but made a good impression at right-half in the game between the Y. M. and St. Andrew's on Wednesday.

G. Fowler played for them at right half but will probably be given his customary position at right-inner later in the season if Frank Lammert, who at present occupies that position gives priority to the Hongkong Club with whom he has also joined forces. Fowler has a useful turn of speed and hits well in the circle.

S. Fowler was wasted in the inside-right position on Tuesday being essentially a wing man. The Y.M.C.A. will do well to keep him on the wing. W. J. Brown is showing the same failing as he displayed last year, that of relying too much on first timers. He has gone back a lot from last year and will have to show a decided improvement if he is to hold his place. G. P. Lammert, ex-Sim Shield left wing for the Club, should, in my opinion be put in at centre-forward. In Tuesday's match he played at left-inner and when for a brief spell he changed places with Brown he strengthened the attack. When he returns in November, T. J. Price will come in at left wing.

DURING the season the "Y" will reserve their Saturdays for game with the Services. They have a useful side this year and will offer a strong challenge to the Club side.

CLEVER combination of the forward line, coupled with steady intermediate and rear lines of defence will make St. Andrew's one of the closest rivals of the Radio in the Mamak tournament this year. In their friendly and practice games already this season they have shown that they are capable of accomplishing this.

AS to the composition of their XI, A. P. Barlow, of the R.A.S.C., is appearing at right wing and is a distinct acquisition. He is replacing F. A. Broadbridge. The latter played at left half-back against the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday and gave a good account of himself in that position. Barlow is faster than Broadbridge on the wing but is inclined to be erratic. N. Mackay will probably be the regular centre-forward, with J. T. K. Gilchrist at right-inner and E. F. Fincher on the left. Gilchrist is clever with scoop passes and combines well with his centre. He has just returned from leave and while in England played in several games which have improved his standard of play considerably. Fincher is fast and has a useful reverse stick shot on the run. M. Well, formerly of the C. B. A., completes the attack on the left.

A. E. P. Guest will again be the pivotal man and will probably be flanked on the right by Arthur Hamson and Sonny Bliss on the left. Bliss is taking up soccer this year and league matches will probably keep him out of the team on Saturday afternoons.

F. V. Wong and E. H. P. White, the safest pair of backs the Saints have ever had, will again hold the fort. Their understanding is splendid. In goal will be R. H. Wong. If the Saints are able to field the above team in their tournament games they should be able to issue a strong challenge to the Radio Sports Club.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR AT KOWLOON C.C.

COMMITTEE'S ANNUAL REPORT MAKES HAPPY READING

CRICKET.

The annual report of the Kowloon Cricket Club has been issued, which records both an increase in membership and satisfactory finances.

The annual meeting of club members will take place at the K.C.C. on Friday next, September 29, at 5.30 p.m.

In their report the committee state:

FINANCE.
The Working Account shows a balance of Income over Expenditure of $2,364.24, which is a satisfactory surplus for the Club's first year in the New Club House.

No comparative figures have been shown because the accounts have been analysed differently this year, making a comparison with last year's figures impossible.

A fine of $2,500 paid by the contractor has been used to write down the value of the Club House, thus relieving the charge for Depreciation in the Income and Expenditure account by this amount. Next year the charge for Depreciation in the Income and Expenditure account will be $3,200 as compared with $774.55 this year.

The redemption of $6,800 worth of Debentures will mean a saving of 6% interest previously payable on this amount.

The General Reserve account now stands at $43,544.77 which is satisfactory.

MEMBERSHIP.
Since 1st August, 1932, 118 new members have joined the Club, 8 old members rejoined and 44 names were removed on account of Resignations, Departures from the Colony and other reasons. The present Membership is 390.

The inevitable small repairs to even such a new building as the Club House have been carried out during the year. The only item to mention was the discovery of white ants in the panelling of the bar. Prompt action was taken and it is hoped that the pest has been completely eradicated.

Mention might be made of the inordinate amount of repair required to the cane chairs. This is partly due to the lack of care in use, and it is hoped that members will realise that care in use of Club property relieves the committee of a considerable amount of work and is of direct financial benefit to the Club.

The Club again experienced a most enjoyable season, and met with a fair measure of success. Our batting was as strong as in any previous season, and will be further strengthened this season by the return of Teddy Ramsey.

Our Bowling, though showing a marked improvement towards the end of the season, did not at any time come up to expectations; a little improvement in this department and in fielding would greatly enhance our chances of again annexing the Championship.

LAWN TENNIS.

The 1932 Tournament was not held until September, and in view of the approach of Cricket it was necessary to conduct a tournament before inter-departmental tennis was held. An experiment in Tennis was held. An experiment in Tennis was held. An experiment in Tennis was held.

It was the intention to run this year's Tournament on similar lines, but unfortunately with rain intervening and the League fixtures being played on different days of the week, this was not possible. The Tournament however has been concluded, and a pleasing feature is the distribution of honours.

In the Tennis League, we again entered teams in all Divisions, and although we were not successful in winning any division the results compare very favourably with the past few years. Our position as a whole, places our standard at about third or fourth as compared with about twenty competing Clubs in the Colony. The Tennis sub-committee wish to place on record their appreciation of the invaluable services rendered by Mr. D. S. Green, the Tennis secretary, in conducting the various tournaments during the past two seasons.

LAWN BOWLS.

Owing to absences and other causes the committee found it difficult to maintain the same teams each week in the League, consequently our weak in both Leagues for seasons 1932 and 1933 is disappointing. The outlook for the coming season, however, is hopeful.

BOWLS INTERPORT

BADGES FOR THE PLAYERS

LATEST TEAMS

The Hongkong Interport lawn bowls team to meet Shanghai next month will sport the newly-designed badge of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association for the first time in the history of the Colony. These badges are now ready and will be available to members of the three-rink which have been selected to represent Hongkong in the official matches.

The badge will later be available to all past Interport players, who should apply to the Hon. Secretary immediately. They will not be ready for another week, but should be finished in time for the Interport matches. Players who are entitled to wear the badge can have the year of selection put on to order.

Neat and artistically designed, the badge has a background of green, representing a bowling green, and white lettering. At the top appears "Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association," and encircled by two dragons are a showa black wood and a white jack.

CORRESPONDENCE

Picnic For Blind Girls.

(To the Editor, Hongkong Telegraph.)

Sir—The St. Peter's Group of the Victoria Diocesan Missionary Association, has in the past six years organised, with the assistance of generous friends, a summer picnic for the girls of the Blind Home, Pokfulam.

The picnic consists of a motor ride to Shekko, when the girls, about 60 in number, are given tea and a present, and supper on their return to the Home.

It has been decided to follow the same plan this year, the picnic to take place on Saturday, October 14th.

The committee organising the picnic would gratefully welcome the loan of cars or donations. Offers and gifts may be sent to Mrs. F. E. E. Booker c/o St. John's Cathedral.

D. BOOKER.

Night Noises.

Sir—Hoping you will be able to find space as our local Police Force get more grouches than otherwise I, with lots of our neighbours, who are forced by circumstances to live in the Central locality, have noticed the big change at night time. The police are doing their best to stop all unnecessary noises at night and within the last two months we can now be assured of at least six hours sleep. There are, still a few cases which seem to need a firmer hand as I have myself heard them warned on lots of occasions, but so far without effect. Anyhow, I wish to congratulate the Police Force and thank them, for what they are at present doing in this direction and wish them more success in the future.

PEACEFUL SLUMBER.

FIGHTING PLAGUE

AUTHORITIES SEEK TO CHECK SPREAD

Dairen, Sept. 21.

The serious proportions to which the plague has reached are recognised in that every health organisation has been mobilised to cope with it and to prevent the infection spreading.

Travellers are scrutinised and quarantined stations are established everywhere. Conferences are constantly being held between the medical authorities.

The Chinese Eastern Railway has announced its readiness to suspend the railway services so as to protect a spread of the plague to Chungchung and Harbin.

Fifty Dairen sanitation officers proceeded into the interior to-day and eight others have been summoned from Japan.

The infected area is bounded by Saupingki, Payintala, Taonan, Taitaihar and Harbin. It is believed that deaths amounting to many hundreds have already occurred in this area.—Reuter.

Chinese Reports.

Peking, Sept. 21.

Reports of the bubonic and pneumonic plagues, which are stated to be raging in South Manchuria, are apparently unconfirmed.

In the Taonan and Saupingki districts foreign reports state that an outbreak of pneumonic plague is said to have occurred in villages about 30 miles from Paomen, on the north-western branch of the Chinese Eastern Railway.—Reuter.

The Prime Minister has sent a letter to Lord Buxton, who has acted as Chairman of both Committees since 1922, expressing appreciation of the work carried out by them.—British Wireless.

RELIGION OF MARY PICKFORD

SHOULD BE LIVED NOT DISCUSSED

WHAT THE WORLD NEEDS

Hollywood, California.

Mary Pickford has found time to think about human problems during her career as a screen star. She has thought much about religion, and in the August issue of The Forum she writes:

"I have always felt religion as something to be lived, not discussed. Perhaps, that is what has been the matter with it—we've spent too much time talking about it and not enough trying to live it."

In another part of the article she says:

"The way of perfection is simple but difficult. To me it means being one's best, doing one's best and looking for the best in the other fellow. It requires discipline and continuous effort, but it is one of the happiest ways through the tangle of human living."

Her conclusion about religion is:

"The world is grasping for something beyond the tottering material effects. It wants religion, it needs religion, but more than anything else, I believe, it needs a restatement of religion, the lifting of a helpful and beautiful thing out of intricate definitions and gestures into something as simple and useful as breathing."

BRITAIN'S MYSTERY MAN OF FINANCE HIMSELF MYSTIFIED

MONTAGU NORMAN AND THE GREAT EXPERIMENT

CONSTANT CHANGE IN U.S. SITUATION

MODESTY AGAIN

London, Sept. 21.

Mr. Montagu Norman, the so-called Mystery Man of the Bank of England, again assumed the role of modesty to-day in an address to the Directors of the Bank.

It appears that the American economic experiment is too puzzling, changes so often and is evolving with too much uncertainty for him to be able to make any sort of guess regarding the future.

So continuous and so great are the changes that no-one who is not on the spot is up-to-date, he declared in to-day's meeting of the Directors.

"Nothing that I found while I was in America would be of the slightest interest to you. It is a fortnight since I was there and in that fortnight a new situation, almost a new country, has grown up there."—Reuter.

Mr. Norman.

INFLATION ON THE CARDS

Plan Said To Be Under Consideration

Washington, Sept. 21.

Talk of inflation is still in the air and the policy of the Administration remains undefined despite the declaration of Mr. Wallace that inflation is not a panacea.

It is understood that the Administration is now carefully considering a plan for a controlled dollar with a firm purchasing power, through which price levels could be established.

It is pointed out that the President is empowered to fix the gold content of the dollar for any stated period, either month by month, or by a ninety-day period.—Reuter.

PRESIDENT AND INFLATION

New York, Sept. 21.

President Roosevelt's reported announcement that he did not consider out-and-out inflation necessary at the moment was accorded considerable support by an influential section of the American Press. It may be that this latest move is for the purpose of gauging inflationary strength throughout the country.

Whatever the motive may have been it will, without any doubt, tend to crystallize the position of the inflationists and there is little doubt that opposition by them to the President's policies will become manifest in a marked degree when the Congress re-assembles next January.

MARKET WEAK

The market was decidedly weak yesterday, Industrials declining almost six points on the Dow-Jones index. Traders who had been expecting immediate inflation, apparently were tumbling over one another in an effort to get rid of their commitments on the long side. After the margin selling induced by this dip dries up there is a good possibility that a rally will develop.

Rumours of the possibility of large sales of cotton to France and Russia were ignored and had little effect on the action of either the stock or commodity markets.

Brokers' loans were reported at $833,000,000, a decrease of $65,000,000 from last week's figure of $898,000,000.

Time money was quoted at 1/2% for 60 days and 3/4% for 90 days.

Reports of important developments are in the wind and the functioning of the National Recovery Act with its apparently increasing difficulties with Labour will bear close scrutiny.—Perkins, Culbertson and Fries.

GOVERNMENT BUYING

New U.S. Price-Raising Effort

Washington, Sept. 21.

In pursuance of a new method of boosting commodity prices, President Roosevelt has ordered the Government purchase of surplus beef, dairy and poultry products, cotton and cotton seed to the value of about $75,000,000.

It is understood that the commodities thus procured will be turned over for use in relief work and not retained as a hang-over on the market.

A deputation of Southern States cotton growers was to-day received at the White House where they urged President Roosevelt to arrange for the Government purchase of half the present cotton crop at fifteen cents a pound as a means of raising prices and controlling production.

The President promised an early decision.—Reuter.

ATTEMPTED TO BRIBE POLICE

HEAVY SENTENCES ON NIGHT WATCHMAN

SERIOUS VIEW TAKEN

Formerly of the Police Indian guards, Ujagar Singh, now employed as a private watchman by the Hongkong Hotel, was brought before Mr. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning charged with possession of a chisel, a screw driver and three keys and attempting to bribe a Police officer.

It was stated by Detective Sergeant Fowle that a Chinese constable yesterday saw defendant in the lane between Gloucester Building and Exchange Building. Defendant was holding a parcel under his left arm, and carrying a felt hat with his right hand. The constable's suspicion was aroused by the Man's behaviour, and he decided to question him.

Opening the parcel, the constable found the chisel, the screw driver and the keys. He asked accused what he was carrying the things for, and not receiving a satisfactory reply, decided to take him to the station. On the way, accused offered him 90 cents to let him go. The constable refused.

POLICE SERIOUS VIEW

Accused said he was not in possession of the instruments for an unlawful purpose. He found the parcel in Queen's Road and shortly after he had picked it up, was arrested by the constable.

Sergeant Fowle said the Police were taking a very serious

DEATH AT A FUNERAL

SIR A. K. WRIGHT'S TRAGIC PASSING

PUBLIC WORKER AND BANKER

London, Sept. 21.

The death occurred to-day in tragic circumstances of Sir Alexander K. Wright, the general manager of the Royal Bank of Scotland.

Sir Alexander was attending a funeral in Edinburgh, when he suddenly collapsed and passed away.—Reuter.

Alexander Kemp Wright, general manager of the Royal Bank of Scotland, and deputy chairman of the Scottish National Savings Committee, was a son of the late Mr. Andrew Wright, Methven, Perthshire. He was educated there, continuing his studies privately in Edinburgh, where he also went through a course in law and economics at the University, gaining several prizes, and afterwards passing as a law agent.

GREAT PUBLIC WORKER.

He received his early practical training in banking and law in Perth, and has successively held the position in the head office of the Royal Bank of Scotland of inspector, head of the law department, superintendent of branches, and secretary, and from 1917 was general manager of the Bank.

Notwithstanding the onerous and exacting nature of his official duties, he had all along found time for public work, having for a considerable period of years acted as honorary secretary in addition to being a director of the Edinburgh Chamber of Commerce. He was elected chairman of the Chamber in 1919, and during his two years of office a substantial endowment fund was raised. He also helped in the movement towards the institution of a degree in commerce, and served on Advisory Committees in the University. He acted for six years as a manager of the Royal Infirmary. He was president of the Institute of Bankers in Scotland from 1922 to 1924, and always took a warm interest in the educational side of the banking profession.

WAR SAVINGS.

His chief effort, however, was in connection with the War Savings movement. He was a leading member of the Scottish Savings Committee since its inception in 1916, and acted as deputy chairman for a number of years. He played an important part in the various War Loan campaigns, and no small measure of the continued success of the savings movement in Scotland was due to his unremitting interest and exertions. Both by speech and pen he did a great deal to popularise the Savings Certificate and spread the gospel of thrift.

He served on two Treasury Committees—the Montagu Committee, 1923, and the Lubbock Committee, 1925—which dealt with important questions affecting the savings movement.

He was a director of the P. and O. Banking Corporation (Ltd.) and the Scottish Equitable Life Assurance Society, and also a member of the Local Board of Drummonds' Branch of the Royal Bank of Scotland in London, being well known in financial circles in the City. He was honorary treasurer of the Officers' Association, Scottish Branch (Earl Haig's Appeal), since its institution in 1920. He was a Deputy-Lieutenant of the city of Edinburgh, and received the C.B.E. in 1922.

view of the case. The accused was now employed as a watchman by the Hongkong Hotel, and was in a position of trust. The Police naturally would look to this watchman for help in case of emergency, and now they found him in possession of these articles which were fit for an unlawful purpose.

It was also a very peculiar fact that defendant was holding a felt hat in his hands. Being a Sikh, he would not wear a hat. There was a suspicion that it belonged to an accomplice, who might have been scared away when the arrest was made.

Defendant joined the Police guards in 1924 and resigned in 1930 to set up as a private watchman.

Sentence of two months was passed on the first charge, and four months on the second, the terms to run consecutively.

DANGEROUS DRIVING CHARGE FAILS

Man Who Contributed to His Own Death

"I am inclined to believe that the dangerous driving charge has not been fully proved and that the deceased contributed to his own death," remarked Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning, when discharging Li Wing, a lorry driver, of this offence, but imposing fines of $20 or three weeks hard labour and $10 or 14 days hard labour on two other charges of having inefficient brakes and carrying an excess load.

The charges were a sequel to an accident in Queen's Road West, a lorry driven by accused came down Pokfulam Road and turned East into Queen's Road, and knocked down Wong Fun, who later succumbed to his injuries.

Mr. R. H. Cole represented the accused when the hearing was continued this morning.

The accused went into the witness box, and said that he was driving about seven or eight miles an hour before he turned the corner into Queen's Road. He sounded the horn and also put out his hand, and was given the green light by the constable at the corner. He kept on the left of the white line. He first saw the defendant in the middle of the road, and when he sounded his horn defendant stopped, but suddenly turned to his right. He applied his brakes, but could not avoid hitting the man.

In reply to Traffic Inspector Alexander, witness said that he could not have missed the man if he had swerved either to the right or the left as there were many other pedestrians on the road. The man ran into the lorry. He found that the brakes were ineffective about 10 a.m. and in fact did make some repairs to them.

Mr. Cole submitted that there was no evidence that the defendant had driven dangerously, it was equally clear that he was not going fast. Evidence was given that the deceased was walking in the middle of the road and that he suddenly crossed. The accused might have made a slight miscalculation, but this did not amount to dangerous driving.

DANGEROUS DRIVING.

Several other traffic offenders were dealt with by Mr. Schofield for various offences.

Chiu Hoi, driver of a public car, was fined $50 for having driven in a dangerous manner in Upper Albert Road.

Mr. L. H. V. Booth, Assistant Director, C. I. D., said that the defendant overtook a bus on the bend in Upper Albert Road and cut in between it and another bus. The driver applied his brakes to

YOUTH'S THEFTS

WATER METER COVER AND RADIATOR CAP

Two charges of larceny were preferred against Chan Shuen at the Central Magistracy before Mr. Schofield this morning. He was alleged to have stolen a water meter cover from outside No. 61 Des Voeux Road West, and a radiator cap from a motor car belonging to Mr. Bessalind of the Netherlands Trading Society.

Appearing for the prosecution, Detective Sergeant Macnamara said that at about 8 p.m. on September 20, a Chinese detective on patrol in Queen's Road Central saw defendant carrying a parcel under his arm. He was behaving in a suspicious manner and when searched by the Police officer, the two articles were found in the parcel.

When further inquiries were made, the radiator was found to have been taken off Mr. Bessalind's car parked in Lyttleton Road.

Sergeant Macnamara said the value of the water meter cover was only $3 but it would cost $10 to have it replaced.

Sentence of six weeks was passed on the first charge, and a month on the second. His Worship also ordered defendant to pay $10 as amends for the damage done to the water meter.

avoid a collision.

Defendant had a previous conviction for the same offence.

Lam Man, a lorry driver, was also fined $50 for negligent driving in Des Voeux Road, West.

Traffic Inspector Alexander said that in this case the defendant knocked down a woman who was killed. After knocking her down he should have stopped at the front wheel had passed over her, but hearing the shouts of the crowd he drove on and the back wheel also went over the woman. It was more or less the woman's own fault. She was practically blind, and was carrying a child at the time. The child escaped injury.

Defendant admitted a previous conviction.

COMBING HIS HAIR.

Kan Wing-ho, a private car driver, was fined $25 for having driven at a dangerous speed between O'Brien Road and the Naval Canteen in Wan Chai.

Traffic Sergeant Brittain said the defendant was doing about 35 miles an hour, and a Chinese who attempted to cross was pulled back in time by his companion.

Mr. E. B. Devar, residing at 68, Village Road, was fined $10 for not having full control of his car.

Traffic Sergeant Winslade said that the defendant was combing his hair, and had both hands off the steering wheel when driving in Stubbs Road.

CAPT. VON PAPEN'S MISSION IN HUNGARY

AN ECONOMIC SUGGESTION LEAKS OUT

Budapest, Sept. 21.

At the conclusion of a five-day visit of Captain von Papen, it was disclosed that he had advised Dr. Gombos, the Hungarian Premier, to convert the wheat areas in Hungary for the growing of soy beans, resin and oil seeds, in order to make Germany independent of Manchurian supplies.

The political results of the visit are beyond the scope of conjecture at the moment, although speculation is rife.

Von Papen's visit has returned a special visit made by Dr. Gombos to Berlin a few weeks ago, when it was generally believed that the Hungarian leader was acting under the guidance of Italy.

Very much in the air at that time was the question of a return to the old regime of Austria-Hungary to replace Germany's idea of adding Austria to the domains of the Reich. The restoration of Prince Otto to the Throne was part of the programme.

Germany has kept silent regarding her reception of the proposal, while maintaining her activities against Austria. France was not well disposed to the plan, fearing that it might have the result of throwing Hungary into Germany's arms, as well as Austria.—Reuter.

UNTIMELY DEATH OF SOLICITOR

MR. F. C. E. RENDALL PASSES AWAY

FOUR YEARS IN COLONY

We regret to have to record that, following an operation for complicated appendicitis, Mr. F. C. E. Rendall, the well-known solicitor, of Messrs. Russ & Co., passed away this morning at 3 a.m. at the War Memorial Hospital.

The funeral will take place this evening, the cortege passing the monument at 5 p.m.

Apparently in normal health, Mr. Rendall has actually been suffering from the recurrence of an old complaint for several weeks. He was taken seriously ill a fortnight ago and an operation was performed during the week-end.

Mr. Francis Cuthbert Eugene Rendall was 37 years of age. He was educated at Rugby Lower School and the University of Wales where he graduated with the Bachelor of Arts degree. He was articled to Mr. Evan Barlow, well-known in Leicester legal circles, and was admitted to the Supreme Court of London in May of 1927. After two years' practice at home, he transferred his activities to this Colony where he met with fair success.

A regular officer in the Indian Army, Mr. Rendall saw war service there and in Mesopotamia. He spoke Hindustani with some fluency.

COURT TRIBUTES.

The Full Court assembled at 12.30, Mr. J. R. Wood, the Chief Justice, and Mr. R. E. Lindsell, the Puisne Judge, presiding over a large gathering of representatives of the legal profession.

Addressing the Attorney General, the Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, K.C., His Lordship the Chief Justice said:—

"Mr. Attorney General, the Court has learned this morning with deep regret of the death in the Colony of Francis Cuthbert Eugene Rendall. Mr. Rendall was admitted and enrolled as solicitor of the Court in 1929 and during his brief practice here he has won the respect and confidence of the Judges and, I feel sure, of all other members of his profession with whom his duties brought him into contact.

His career included a period of service as an officer in the Indian Army, an experience which made it possible for him to be especially helpful here to members of the Indian community in their concerns. He has died early and we extend the sympathy of the Court to his relatives in their bereavement, to his widow, and to his two young sons.

The Attorney General said: "I should like to associate myself and brethren of the Bar in this tribute to Mr. Rendall. During his short practice here he established a reputation for reliability, coupled with gentility, courtesy and integrity in keeping with the highest traditions of the profession. We have every reason to regret that he has been taken from us at a time when his career was so promising."

Those present included—Mr. J. A. Fraser, Assistant Attorney General, Messrs. D. McNeill, H. C. Macnamara, Hin-shing Lo, Leo D'Almada, Jr., R. C. Lim, Barristers-at-law, the Hon. Dr. S. W. Tso, Messrs. F. G. Nigel, C. Bulmer Johnson, E. Davidson, L. R. Andrews, C. F. Loebay, D. H. Danys, Leo D'Almada, Mr. C. A. D'Almada, F. X. D'Almada, Mr. D. J. Lewis, G. G. Tinson, M. A. da Silva, J. ### SMOKES CIGARS AT TWO

OCCASIONALLY HE LIKES A PIPE

West Paterson, New Jersey.

As he approaches his second birthday, Sonny Norman, puffs happily at cigars and occasionally gives a pipe a fling. Neither pipe nor cigars have so far given Sonny a fling.

According to his parents, Sonny, first took up cigars while on the lap of his father. He grabbed a cigar his father was smoking and cried until his father let him have a puff, thinking to cure him of the idea. He was not cured and now he strides about the yard of the family house at 295 Jackson Avenue, puffing. He also goes now and then for a ride in his perambulator, puffing when opportunity admits and collecting large crowds.

The general impression among doctors seems to be that it doesn't hurt children much. Dr. Margaret Mead, ethnologist of the American Museum of Natural History, found all the children, from two-year-olds up, smoking in the Admiralty Islands south of the Philippines. She added that they seemed brighter and nimbler than American children, so far as she could see.—Reuter.

Smoking By Women Condemned

London.

"One contemplates, with some alarm, the future of a generation of yet unborn mothers harassed with a desire for slenderness and excessive smoking," Dr. Rutherford continued. "I have known excessive smoking to be the only apparent exciting cause and, indeed, I regard it as being a fairly common contributory cause, of mental illness. Its effects are not so obvious as those of alcohol, but the effects are insidious with the production of gastric disturbances, loss of appetite, and generally lowered physical condition, which make mental attack likely to occur with little other provocation."—Reuter.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney.

Isn't it only natural that the queens should predominate in the National mixed team-of-four championship? In this event a team must consist of two mixed pairs. At Asbury Park recently this event set an attendance record for national team-of-four championship events.

The kings and queens of bridge competed for this national championship title and the following interesting hand came up during the contest. The first four tricks were won by the declarer with four queens.

Mr. George Unger, former national contract team-of-four champion, was sitting in the South and his partner was Mrs. B. B. Fuller, who with her partner, Mrs. Courtland Smith, won the national woman's pair title at Asbury Park.

Mr. Unger passed, West passed, and Mrs. Fuller in the North bid one spade. East doubled and South bid one no trump. North went to two no trump and South bid three no trump.

The Play

West's opening lead was the jack of hearts and dummy's queen held the trick. Mr. Unger returned the six of diamonds from dummy and played the queen from his own hand. West allowed it to hold the trick.

The next play was the deuce of spades, the queen was played from dummy and the third queen had won the trick. This gave Mr. Unger the thought that now his club finesse should be good, so he played the deuce of clubs from dummy, finessing the queen—and the first four tricks had all been won with queens.

However his contract was still not made. He led a small diamond and won in dummy with the ten. East showed out, discarding a spade. Mr. Unger then cashed his ace and king of hearts—East showed out of hearts, discarding another spade.

This gave Mr. Unger a perfect count on the East hand, which now had left nothing but three clubs and three spades, therefore a small club was played from dummy and won in the declarer's hand with the ace. East was then thrown in the lead with a club, and cashed the good king of clubs.

East held the ace, jack and nine of spades and dummy held the king, ten and eight. All that Mr. Unger needed to make his contract was one trick. East played a small spade which dummy won with the king, and while East won the last two spade tricks with the ace and jack, Mr. Unger had made his contract of three no trump.

CINEMA SCREENINGS

NOTES SUPPLIED BY
THE THEATRES

William Faulkner's dramatic tale of present-day youth, "The Story of Temple Drake," is showing at the Queen's Theatre with Miriam Hopkins in the title role and Jack LaRue, William Gargan, William Collier, Jr., heading the supporting cast.

Miss Hopkins, cast as a wild young aristocrat, whose wildness, however, has the fortunate quality of knowing its own limits, is in love with Gargan, a young attorney. She refuses his offer of marriage because she feels she is not good enough for him. From Gargan she goes to Collier, a drunken college boy, and they speed off in his car in search of more liquor. The ride ends in a crash, and they climb from the wreckage to find themselves virtual prisoners of LaRue, a big-city gangster, in a remote, desolate hideaway. LaRue ships the boy off to the city, and forces Temple to remain with him. He kills the only man who tries to protect her; then drags her off to the city and keeps her with him in a tawdry rooming house.

There Gargan finds her. He has been assigned to defend the man charged with the murder LaRue committed. In his search for evidence, he looks up LaRue and is horrified to discover Temple with him. The film reaches its climax in the action that follows.

"Cavalcade" presents a new form in cinema technique. Frank Lloyd, the director, digested the current forms of supervision and, after a careful dovetailing of technique emerged with "Cavalcade," the current attraction at the King's Theatre to-day.

The problem was to present a picture that spanned more than a quarter of a century and at the same time to include a trilogy of romances. On the face of it a difficult enough task, Lloyd found "it almost insurmountable on paper. It was only in its subsequent shooting that the production smoothed itself out.

Lloyd noted "the difference in technique existing between the stage and screen, and employed all the artifice of the cinema to obtain a result contrasted with that secured in the Drama Lane production. In the stage play stagecraft was resorted to in order to achieve impressionistic effects. But in the film version Lloyd secured realism through the use of impressionism. Added to this the Fox director attended the newspapers as regularly as he did his meals.

Newscasts, according to Lloyd, are the basic gospels for all movie directors. The modern cinema, that following the old Biograph dramas depicting action as much through cutting as the action itself, is directly responsible to the influence of the newscast, Lloyd says.

Even story power, the director of "Cavalcade," learned, is bolstered through the rapid and efficient means of film cutting employed by newscast technicians. The work—looking at future editions in the negative and making headlines much in the manner of newspaper reporters—makes them expert in the selection of human interest values.

"Cavalcade" incorporates every quality of the visual news organ of history to include the highlights of recent events. Lloyd tried to reflect the feeling of the thirty-two years without imposing historical representation, and yet retaining a flavour of authenticity that makes "Cavalcade" at once documentary and entertaining.

Clive Brook, Diana Wynyard and Ursula Jeans appear in the film version of the Noel Coward success which ran at London's Drury Lane Theatre for eleven months.

"The White Sister" is capable of gay laughter, of intense drama, of tears in cascades.

That is Helen Hayes, named the "best screen actress of 1932" by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for her work in "The Sign of the Cross," now co-starring with Clark Gable in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's talkie version of "The White Sister," showing from Sunday at the Queen's Theatre.

Her real name is Brown. Her birthplace is Washington. Her father is a government employee. Her education took place at the Sacred Heart Convent where among other awards she received a medal for debating.

Cute, big-eyed, it is not hard to understand why, when she was six years old, a Washington stock-company manager induced her to play in "Poor Relations."

She became a child favourite who played "Lord Fauntleroy" in fact, except "Little Eva." Her Washington success brought her to New York where she did child comedy sketches for Low Fields.

She was so much in demand for stage work during her childhood that her education was completed at the hands of tutors.

While still in her teens, she won outstanding notice for her portrayal opposite Alfred Lunt in "Clarence," this was followed by "Pollyanna," later became increasingly grown up with "What Every Woman Knows," "Dancing Partners," "Coquette," "Petite Influence," and "The Good Fairy."

She has appeared in only five pictures in three years. "The Sign of the Cross," "The White Sister," "A Farewell to Arms," "The Son-Daughter" and "The White Sister" yet to-day stands as the most talked about of all cinema stars.
